School Days.

(LIZZIE L. FOSTER.)

School-days are the spring time of life; a season of sowing. It is then that the seeds of character and future usefulness are sown; seeds that spring up either to our honor and advancement or to our degradation.

In these bright days of life's morn we are laying the foundation of a character which must survive for all eternity. A character which will make us to be respected as persons of integrity and steadfastness, or dreaded as the hooded serpent of Egypt. Laying the foundation upon which will be erected a life of usefulness, honor and glory—a blessing to itself and all with whom it comes in contact. These are the days above all others when we should apply ourselves diligently to the improvement of our minds. The halcyon days of youth will soon be past never to be recalled, and the responsibilities of life will soon be crowded upon us. Will we be prepared? The boys of today will one day be the men who must govern this nation. Whether they be prepared to take the helm when their fathers desert the ship of state rests solely with them. They alone can fit themselves for guiding the grand old ship over the bounding billows of time, steering clear of rocks and sand-bars; and if they are not such as they should be, soon in the dizzy whirl of the maelstrom that ship must sink forever. Whatever they desire to make themselves, that they can be. But only by untiring, persevering effort can they hope to attain to the heights of honor and fame. The hill of science is rugged, and only those who are determined ever reach the summit. At all times remembering:

"The heights by great men reached and kept

Were not attained by sudden flight;
But they while others dreamed or slept,
Were toiling upward in the night."

Though at times the way appears gloomy, yet we remember that by and by the clouds will roll away, and then our pathway will be illumined by the silvery light of success. Let us not become dazed or disheartened when gazing at the hero standing on the top-most round of the ladder of fame, but remember that once he was standing at the foot of the ladder, and that he climbed round after round to the high position he now occupies. Life is so full of duties. There is something for each one to do, but our part in this grand drama is quickly acted. Let us then appreciate our school days knowing that, "Whatsoever we sow we also reap." Let us ever strive after the good, the noble, the true, following in the footsteps of those who

"On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents have spread."

Okadale, N. C.

The commissioner of the general land office, Washington, announces that at 9 o'clock on the morning of November 15th the government will throw open 750,000 acres of agricultural land in the Chippewa reservation, in Minnesota. If as much as 50 per cent of this land is usable for agricultural purposes, here is farm land for nearly 8,000 families, with 20 fertile acres each, or 16,000 families with 25 acres. This means a population of about 70,000 persons. It strikes us that there is small excuse for idleness and "vagrancy" when, for the price of a colonist ticket, anyone can become a landed proprietor in this exceedingly fertile region.—Ex.

Only Ordinary Men.

Most men call back to their boyhood days and remember the time when they dreamed of becoming Napoleons, or Washingtons or great financiers or great authors in the far future, remarks an exchange. We knew we had remarkable talents and when they should be developed they would make great men of us and we would be remembered among the intellectual giants of the age. It was a day dream, which few of us ever realize.

When we arrived on the shady side of forty we found ourselves numbered with the great mass known as ordinary men. The remarkable boy, who was sure he would become a Napoleon or a president of the United States, settles down to become a good book keeper, or a bank clerk or a farmer. He may be a very useful and honorable man in his calling, but he is only an "ordinary man." But, after all, what would the world do if we were all Napoleons or millionaires? If we were all Vanderbilts or Rockefeller's what would Vanderbilt do for men to keep his books, or engineers to run his trains? Ordinary men, after all, are very necessary, and the world can not get along without them. As a rule, the ordinary men are the best husbands and fathers and most faithful in their duties to their church. Napoleons and Vanderbilts live so much in "the eye of the world and have so many great undertakings they do not get time to enjoy their family life and they forget their religious duties. It is a blessing to the world, therefore, the most men are ordinary men. The good, honest, intelligent, ordinary men are the bone sinew of the nation. The so-called middle class, those who are neither rich nor very poor, the intelligent, industrious business men, mechanics and farmers, they constitute the bulwark of the nation. There is a better ambition, therefore, than to be great or rich as Charles Kingsley has so beautifully said,

"Be good, my dear, and let who will be clever,
Do noble things, don't dream them all day long,
Then will life, death and the vast forever
Be one sweet song."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 5, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The Grand Lodge of Masons re-elected its present officers at Macon last week.

A white primary has been ordered for Mayor in Gainesville on December 5th.

A wedding occurred in the public square of Gainesville last week, being Mr. Thomas Edmondson and Miss Malinda Smith.

Henry E. Cary was killed in Atlanta last week by the discharge of his own gun while in the bare killing rats, by the trigger striking a nail.

Politics will soon be in motion from president of the United States on down to militia district balliffs, then every body will have a friend, even to the poor man and the negro.

You never hear of any country editor being bothered by pickpockets in Atlanta or any where else. Simply because they are too lean and hungry for such men as those to notice them.

The dwelling occupied by Roe Harris and family was destroyed in Gainesville last week by fire. It is said that he had several thousand dollars stored away in the building, all of which was lost, causing Mr. Harris to be almost distracted.

At Savannah last week T. B. Sanford received from the Methodist church, L. W. Cribb, who is to hang Nov. 10 for murder in Coffee county. He was baptized in jail. We would like to know where he expects to take the sacrament?

The great New York newspaper man, William R. Hearst, came and returned without the Negroer man getting to see him, but we suppose if he is elected president of the United States that he will not take any exceptions but will treat us as one of the people.

Pickpockets in Atlanta last week relieved Bishop Warner Candler of eight dollars. By robbing the head of the Methodist church shows that they have no more respect for a saint than a sinner. Wonder if Bro. Mark will refuse to send his children to school in Atlanta now?

Millard Lee, who murdered his sweetheart in Atlanta many months ago, was hanged last Friday. Dr. Broughton of that city said in a card the day before his execution that it was a shame upon the state for Lee to be hanged. It would have been a greater shame upon the state had he not been executed after having killed this poor innocent girl without a moments warning. His execution was postponed six different times. We should look at both sides of the picture.

Attorney General Hart is engaged in investigating the legal aspect of the complaint made by scores of citizens of Fannin, Towns, Union and Gilmer counties, in this state, that the fumes and gases emitted from the copper furnaces at Ducktown are doing much damage to the trees and vegetation of every character in the counties above named. Judge Hart says that if half of what the complaints say is true, the condition of that section of the state is a serious matter to the people living there. He says that the fumes and gases from the smelting furnaces at Ducktown affect trees and vegetation of twenty-five or thirty miles in every direction, and that the infected section is growing in size yearly. He says that there is no state law that can help to abate the nuisance, but that he thinks the federal laws will give the relief desired, either by an injunction or a suit brought by the state of Georgia against the operators of these mines for damages.

It will soon take a big pot in which to boil the politics.

Pension Commissioner Lindsay submitted his annual report to the governor last week, giving the number of pensioners and the total amount paid. The total number of pensioners paid during the year 1903 amounts to 14,513. The total number paid last year was 13,975, an increase of 538. The amount of money paid out was $850,100, this year, against $822,695 last year, an increase of $27,405. There is a surplus in the treasury now from the pension money which was not paid out which amounts to $13,890. Commissioner Lindsay has also completed the rolls for next year. This roll shows an increase in the number of pensioners to be paid instead of a decrease, as was anticipated.

Rev. W. O. Petty, a well known citizen shot at J. B. Lipscomb the latter's store in Gainesville last Saturday. The weapon used was a double barreled shotgun. Lipscomb dodged and the lead of shot entered the arm of Jones Gaines, who was standing near, inflicting a painful although not dangerous wound. Petty recently wrote an article severely exonerating Lipscomb because the latter was alleged to be running a blind tiger near Petty's home. Lipscomb was fined $500 by Judge Kinney at the last term of Hall county superior court for selling liquor and agreed to leave the county. Petty claims that Lipscomb is now operating a worse place than formerly.

Jim Morton, an Atlanta negro, made a test case of the recently enacted Calvin vagrancy law by taking out habeas corpus proceedings against Sheriff John W. Nelms, of Fulton county. The supreme court of Georgia has rendered a decision affirming the decision of the lower court and stating that the law was constitutional and that no proof to the contrary had been submitted.

There are a lot of people afraid to eat cabbage on account of the so-called cabbage snake. This is all foolishness. There is no harm in the thing. One was sent to the Department of Agriculture and they pronounced it a worm or what is commonly called a "horse hair snake" and it is harmless, unless taken into the stomach alive. If any body has died from eating cabbage, it was caused by Paris Green, or else they were founders ed.—Ellijay Courier.

Yesterdays afternoons mail brings the news that the democrats elected McElenan in New York by 10,000 plurality. A democratic governor is elected in Maryland and the republicans lose the legislature. In Ohio the republicans carry the legislature and elect Herreck governor by over 100,000 plurality. The democrats reelect governor Garvin in Rhode Island and the republicans reelect Bates in Massachusetts. Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado and New Jersey go republican.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK AND POULTRY MEDICINE

Stock and poultry have few troubles which are not bowel and liver irregularities. Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is a bowel and liver remedy for stock. It puts the organs of digestion in a perfect condition. Prominent American breeders and farmers keep their herds and flocks healthy by giving them an occasional dose of Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine in their food. Any stock raiser may buy a 25-cent half-pound air-tight can of this medicine from his dealer and keep his stock in vigorous health for weeks. Dealers generally keep Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine. If you do not, send 25 cents for a sample can to the manufacturers, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Brooklyn, O., Jan. 20, 1902.
Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine is the best I ever tried. Our stock was looking bad when you sent us this medicine and now they are getting on fine. They are looking 20 per cent better.

Local News.

We have had some rain this week.

The hunting season opened last Monday.

Painters should read ordinary's notice elsewhere.

Mr. J. R. Bryson of Landrum, Ga., visited his sons in Dahlonega last Sunday.

Mr. Frank Jones has been over in Union county for several days optioning timbered lands.

Do you wish to vote in the next city election? If so go to the store of W. P. Price, Jr., and register. See notice of Mayor elsewhere.

FOR SALE.—A good horse, 6 years old. Works well. Sound and all right. Also yoke of good young steers, and one old steer. M. J. WILLIAMS.

Charges having been made against one of the Masonic brethren caused a larger attendance at their meeting last Tuesday night. Several came in from the country.

Mr. Frank Harris drew some base ball players so natural that you can almost see them breathe. They are in the window of W. P. Price, Jr. Go and take a peep at them.

Some weeks ago we stated that ex-City Marshal Harbison of Dahlonega had been employed by the Southern Co. We since learn that it is the Gainesville and Jefferson road.

T. J. Smith & Bro., wish the public to know that they are still offering bargains in all kinds of goods. It will pay you to visit their store and see their nice clothing and learn how cheap it is.

We are requested to state that there will be singing at Nimblewill church next Sunday morning at 9 o'clock by J. A. Anderson, who will commence a singing school at that place the following morning.

Several men and their families, residing in the upper portion of the county, are going to move to Alabama in a few days. About the first strike that is made and all hands thrown out of employment in that section, they will all be wanting to come back. Better let well enough alone by remaining where you are.

The first person arrested in Dahlonega or the county, for vagrancy, was Will Trammell, a negro lad who seems to be too lazy to eat even if he could live without it. He was carried before Esquire W. J. Worley last Monday by City Marshal Walker, and all that saved him from being bound over was his age—less than 16.

Last Sunday night sheriff Davis arrested Albert Henson, a lad who cut Dave Franklin with a knife two years and a half ago here and lodged him in jail. After cutting Franklin the boy outran Marshal Harbison and made his escape. He has been away all this time in Alabama and Mississippi and slipped in on a visit to his relatives, and the sheriff being notified of the fact by some one, took him in.

Mayor Baker returned from Macon last Sunday where he has been attending the Grand Lodge of Masons. While there he also took in Barnum's show. The Colonels last night in the Central City was any thing but pleasant. While lying dreaming about the big elephant, ugly clowns and many pretty woman he was aroused from his slumbers by a sneak thief who had entered the room and was making off with the Colonel's vest containing his valuable time piece. The Colonel grabbed the stranger and then they had it around and around, at times the Colonel's long tail night shirt was fanning the breeze somewhat resembling a skirt dance, which continued until many guests of the hotel were aroused and upon some of their appearance at the scene the thief dropped the watch on the floor and made his disappearance with an open knife in his hand.

It's true it's a sensational nature but we won't tell you about it this week.

We have turned out fourteen different jobs of work since our last issue. This, we think, does very well for a country office.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McGuire are on a visit to Dawson county this week where they expect to remain a few days longer.

Now the people within the corporate limits having hogs, can put them up in a close pen if they desire without violating any of the city laws.

Mr. John Montgomery of this county, has a June apple tree from which he has gathered four crops of good ripe apples this year and it is in bloom again.

J. F. Moore & Co. keep everything that is needed to supply the wants of the people in this section, at prices that will interest all. See their ad. on fourth page of this issue.

Last Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn of Dahlonega, were called to the death bed of their grand child, which was two years and six months old, of Mrs. Homer Rubeson of this county. The child was buried at Old Bethel, in Dawson county.

Although there is a good deal of business on the Superior court docket here, and something was said about a call session in our last issue, we learn that the attorneys say that but little of this business could be tried at a call term, therefore no such session will be held.

The gentleman who came up to inspect the recently repaired telephone line from Dahlonega to Gainesville a few days ago, was very much displeased with the work. He said that it was a very sorry job and was trying to find out the man's name who supervised the work. No one here could tell him except he was a man supposed to be employed by the Bell Telephone Co.

Sheriff Davis went down to Douglasville last Monday to bring back Nelius Goudlock for whom a bill was returned at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court, charging him with cursing a woman of his color here recently. Nelius got wind of it and left out but failed to get beyond the clutches of the law. We understand that this negro is also wanted in Pickens county for trouble he got into over there some time ago. When arresting Nelius at Douglasville a pistol was found on his person. So they made a case against him there and Sheriff Davis had to return alone.

Yesterday was the day for the pardoning board to take up the case of the Beasley boys who are serving out a 20 years sentence in the penitentiary from this county for killing a Mr. Geaile. Mrs. Beasley, the mother of the young man, was sent for last week by Col. W. P. Price, who is asking for a pardon in behalf of their relatives. There were two men killed at the same time, Grindle and Holeman. The Beasleys were only tried and convicted for the killing of the former and if they are pardoned they will be brought back and tried for the murder of Holeman.

The largest worm yet coming from a mountain cabbage was discovered in Gainesville a few days ago, an account of which was sent to the Atlanta Journal. It looked out its tongue like a snake and was poison enough to kill fifteen people. The writer didn't say, but his head must have been as large as a big wash pot, with teeth as long as 20 penny nails. This great monster opened its jaws of death and roared like a lion, causing alarm in the entire city and for miles around. They started with it to Atlanta in an iron cage to the state chemist but the reptile made its escape and has not been heard of since. It is said that this snake was carried through Dahlonega to Gainesville in a wagon but it was concealed in a cabbage head and didn't raise any disturbance here.

When you need any shingles, write Hutchison Bros. All orders promptly filled, Freda, Ga.

We have just received another nice lot of stationery. When you need any job work either come or send.

Mr. Joseph N. Christy was married to Miss Caroline Anderson in this county last week by A. J. Elge Esq.

The court stenographer, who takes Mr. Swains place on this circuit is Mr. Cooley, residing in White county.

All who are indebted to T. J. Smith, H. B. Smith or T. J. Smith & Bro., either by note or account, are notified to settle at once. If Mr. Hester, the father of the triplets in Chestatee district, was in Dahlonega last week. He says they are all well and getting along splendid.

The person who got Mr. Wm. Rickett's foot adze are requested by him to bring it back or put it where he can get it and be liberally rewarded.

We learn by a private letter that Charlie Crisson of this county, was badly hurt by a mule one night last week at Cross, Tenn. Didn't get the particulars.

A party residing out in the country, writes us that Wash Thomas of Frostown district, this county, went fishing recently and caught fourteen pounds of fish, one measuring 23 inches.

The report that Miss Nellie Roberts and Ellis Beck were married last week in Gainesville, is untrue. A certain young man says he only brought the news as a joke. A thing of this kind is a poor joke.

An article was sent us for publication but as not one in the office or about the place could read it, we were compelled to leave it out. Being on a subject we knew nothing about we couldn't even guess at some of the words and "fill in." When copied we will publish it with pleasure.

Although there is a public school in Dahlonega with its doors thrown open to all free of charge, we notice a number of children not in attendance. Parents should see that their children go while the opportunity is offered. Some of them will soon grow over school age. They will see the need of an education, but it will be too late.

On our first page you will find all the state pensioners of this county. It is interesting reading. There is no doubt in our mind but what some are included who are not entitled, while some who are entitled cannot get their names on the list. Even dead persons are drawing, and some names on the list who have not resided in the county for years.

Judge Kinsey didn't carry out the request of the grand jury last week by appointing Capt. J. W. Woodward registrar to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Copeland, because the law doesn't allow three registrars of the same politics to be appointed. The other two are Messrs. M. J. Williams and J. T. Miller, both democrats. Who the Judge will select we have no idea.

Uncle Joe Christopher, a good old man, residing over in the eastern portion of the county, when renewing his subscription to the Nugget the other day told us that it was the only thing that comforted him since he had lost his wife. We certainly sympathize with Uncle Joe and are glad that we are able to furnish him a paper that he can pass off the time with in his loneliness.

Last Friday a stranger to us came to see the town on horseback, but being so full of mountain dew he failed to see much, and as he departed he got his friend to wait until he could vomit. Fortunately for him it was out on the edge of town, and fortunately for those who live close by, it rained the following night and washed down the mound made with the contents of his sick stomach.

Mr. B. R. Meaders returned from South Georgia last Saturday.

The next session of the Colored Baptist Association will be held at Dahlonega.

The expenses of the bailiffs at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court, was $110.00.

Mrs. Hughes Moore returned from Gainesville last Friday where she had been on a visit to relatives.

The school boys have ordered leather belts which will take the place of the white ones they now use as soon as they are received.

Mrs. H. E. Watson left for Cross, Tenn., last Saturday, where she goes to join her husband who has been there a few weeks time keeping for a company.

The new telephone line from this place to Dawsonville, now being built, is going to be of much convenience to the people here as well as to those all along the line.

Sheriff Davis carried Harris Postell, to the convict camp at Ashburn, Ga., near Macon, last Friday, where he goes for a term of twelve months, charged with larceny.

Wednesday wound up the last quarterly meeting at this place for this year. Very soon the annual conference will convene and Methodist preachers belonging to it will be given new homes, to the delight of some and sorrow of others.

The students are certainly putting in good time studying. You never see any loafing among them now during school days. This will cause them to know something when examination day rolls round just before commencement and be a credit to both college and students.

A gentleman in far off Biddford, Me., in a letter last week says: "Enclosed please find P. O. Order for $1.00 for which send me the Nugget another year. While we are some distance away we are interested to know what is going on in your city and feel that you give us the news."

One day last week Homer Gabriel of Dawson county, was married to Miss Ruth Wilson of Lumpkin. It is an old saying that every sweet has its bitter, but with Homer it is different. During court here he was jailed, charged with riot. Afterwards he was a witness and received over $8.00 for fees, being a non resident. Then he got married.

Arveta Sullins and his son W. A. Sullins of this county, charged with conspiracy in the U. S. Court at Atlanta, were acquitted last week. This is the case where John Barker was a witness against Arveta in this county some time ago, and threatening notices were found about his house, and these parties were accused of it.

Prof. B. M. Hall, at one time a professor in the N. G. A. College at Dahlonega, was in the city a short while last week. He is a surveyor and was on his way near Porter Springs to examine certain streams, likely to secure some facts and figures concerning the damage suit that is now pending here in the Superior court in the case of the Pyrites Co. vs. the Cayender's Creek Gold Mining Co.

At the last session of the legislature a bill was passed not allowing jurors to serve at two Superior courts in succession. For instance if you sit on the grand jury at one term of the court you are disqualified to serve on either the grand or special jury at the next. Same way, if you serve on the special jury at one term you can not serve on any jury at the next term. So this will disqualify about six persons already drawn for the next term of the Superior court. Some were disqualified at the last term of the court, so we are informed, but such a law was not known then, although it was of force but whether it will have any effect in cases where true bills were returned, in case any juror was disqualified, we do not know.

Mrs. Stephen Rice visited relatives in White county last week.

Dr. W. W. McAfee of Atlanta, president of the McAfee-Lind Mining Co. is up this week.

Col. J. H. Moore has been confined to his room all this week but trust he will soon be out.

Mr. J. F. Castleberry of Hall's Villa, was absent a few days in Gainesville this week.

Bill Dotson was fined one and sent yesterday for disturbing Docia Beck a few months ago.

By referring to our advertising columns you will find much valuable land for sale in this issue.

Go to Dr. Jones and look at his Bohemian glassware and beautiful pictures just received. Nicest thing in town.

The Consolidated Co. is having all the decayed telephone posts taken down in town and new ones put up in their places.

A few days ago in Wahoo district Mr. E. L. Pierce, was married to Miss Lou, a pretty daughter of Mr. Henson Chapman.

Last Monday Floyd, a little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Castleberry was tripped up by a boy while playing, causing him to fall and break his left arm.

A moonshiner got as near Dahlonega as Crane's Mill last Saturday and dealt out enough liquor to make several feel quite wealthy the next day.

Mr. F. B. Elbridge, who has charge of the Betz mine, was in the city a short while last Tuesday. Nothing is being done at this mine now on account of the absence of Mr. Arnold, who is expected soon. Prof. Steed and his wife learning of the serious illness of Mrs. Steed's mother in Macon a few days ago, left out at once for that city. The professor returned last Tuesday, leaving Mrs. Steed who will not be back for some days yet.

The Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway company was last Monday granted an additional two years for the completion and equipment of the first 15 miles of its line by Secretary of State Phil Cook. Col. W. A. Charters filed the application.

City Marshal Walker's report to the city council last Monday night proves that he has not eaten any idle bread during the past month, as will be seen from the following: Sanitary tax collected $12.00, show tax $4.40, street tax $7.50, fines and cost $16.30, tax $1.45, $35.75, and work on streets $6.75.

The last legislature passed an act creating a "Register of Posted Lands." The owner posts his land, says the Marietta Journal, in the usual way by posting at least two places on his premises, after this he registers with the clerk of the Superior court in a book for this purpose, in the presence of the clerk, his name, the description of the land posted, the number of the district in which the land lies, and the number of the land lot, after paying the clerk 25 cents for each tract registered, his land is posted according to law and you had better not hunt on it without permission.

Auraria Dots.

Rev. J. H. Bell, formerly of Auraria, but now of Atlanta, preached at the Baptist church here, last Sunday.

A Sunday school was organized at the Methodist church here, Sunday before last.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hutchison and their bright little niece, Miss Leila Hutchison of Freda, visited relatives here last Sunday.

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church here, conducted by Rev. Mr. White, closed on Wednesday night of last week. Two young ladies united with the church.

Dr. Geo. W. Winslow of Chicago, spent a few days first of last week here, looking over the Josephine Mine.

Capt. and Mrs. Jaquish visited Gainesville last week.

Mining Notes.

A ten stamp mill is being put in place on the Jumbo Mine. This looks like business and speaks well for the push and energy of the management.

Mr. Ashley, after prospecting the mica mine on the Lee property in this county for some time, tells us that he finds it all right and in a short while will locate in Dahlonega so as to be more convenient to his work.

The first lot of machinery for the Gorge is all in, but there is still more yet to be delivered, being about seven car loads in all, and in a short time the last will be placed on the ground. The work on the dam is moving along nicely.

At the McAfee-Lind Gold Mining Co.'s Mine the mill machinery is now all on the ground ready for erection, and by the time it is completed, a large amount of ore will be ready, so as to keep it constantly moving without any delay whatever.

If there is any truth in the old adage that "What everybody says, must be true," Jumbo is the largest and richest gold mine ever opened in Georgia. In shaft No. 1 at a depth of only fifty feet five good gold bearing veins have been struck and they are still going down on it.

Mr. Tregent's lease on the Barlow Mine expired last Saturday, but he is still at work and will likely continue until the president, Mr. Ainslie, arrives. The money has all been raised to resume work at the Benning Mine but Mr. Ainslie wishes to get everything ready to start when he arrives without having to make two trips. He is now waiting on some experts for other purposes in view, to come with him.

A number of orders for Jumbo stock have been received from the great mining state of Colorado. We are glad to know that Western men are beginning to recognize the possibilities of our rich and undeveloped gold fields. We would be glad for enterprising miners in the west—not only to send their money, but to come down and see for themselves. We need their mining skill and energy as well as their money.

The Ingersoll & Crisson dredge boat is up about the Lamarr lot, in the Chestatee river, now making good money. Some large, fine nuggets have recently been found in the clean runs. We had the pleasure of seeing a portion of a four week's run last Saturday, after it was melted into a bar, nuggets not included. This bar weighed three pounds and was as pretty good as we ever looked at. The owners are well pleased with the results, as the expenses are light and the profits large. These beautiful nuggets and much fine gold prove that there are rich veins close by, yet not discovered.

The rich veins of ore opened on the Jumbo Mine in the last few weeks would have produced a genuine sensation in any mining country in the world except in the south. The Associated Press dispatches would have carried the news of the rich strikes to all parts of the country. But here, even among our own people, such discoveries are scarcely mentioned. Just in this connection we want to say there have been fewer mining failures on this belt than in any other mining country we know of, and scarcely a single failure, that could be properly charged to the mine, but in almost every instance to the management. There has been more gold taken from this belt from the amount of surface worked than has ever been taken from the same amount of surface in any other mining section of the United States. With this record and the quantity and quality of ore opened on Jumbo, and the character and standing of the men in charge of the mine, we confidently predict a great success for Jumbo, and feel that the stockholders will get large returns in dividends for the money invested.

The Life That Counts.

The life that counts is a life on a high level, yet full of helpful healing sympathy for all life on its lowest levels. It is the first debt which we owe to our fellow men in this age. The man who has faith accepts the uncertainty of life as the consequence of its large significance; he cannot interpret it, because it means so much; he cannot trace its lines through to the end, because it has no end; it runs into God's eternity. Something better is coming out of it than worldly fame or wealth or power. He is not making himself. God is making him, and after a model which eye hath not seen. He ~~can~~ toil away at his work, not knowing whether he is to see its results now or not, but knowing that God will not let it be wasted. There is a satisfaction in being appreciated, in feeling that others acknowledge our worth ~~of~~ our power, and in gaining that praise from the world that is food to so many of us. But the man or woman whose lives are not on the highest plane or those who take up their burdens without finching, or without prospect of reward, who do not look for the plaudits of pit and gallery; are unconcerned as to the audience so long as they play their part well, and in faith and patience, live the life where they belong even though their heavens fall.—Annie L. Jack.

Railway Building In Uganda.

The romance of railways is a thing which the poets are very properly trying to make people perceive. The romance of lions and rhinoceroses, on the other hand, is admitted to exist, even by their worst enemies. When the two kinds of romance clash, stirring times ensue. Mr. H. B. Molesworth makes this plain in an article on "The Uganda Railway," in the pages of Public Works. The progress of the work, he tells us, was much interfered with by the depredations of man-eating lions. At Ssavo twenty-eight men were taken by lions in a short time. There was a panic among the men; traps were made; the coolies slept in trees, in the water tanks at the stations, in covered goods wagons, and finally iron huts were built for them. Mr. Patterson, an engineer on the line, shot several lions, and among them two which were the chief culprits.

A lion entered a first-class carriage on the siding of Kimaa Station in June, 1900, and carried away Mr. Ryall, the assistant superintendent of police. In July of 1900 four lions were killed and three wounded at Kimaa Station, and two men were taken by lions near Kuk. A large lion was trapped at Kimaa in August, and then no more were taken for some time. Such minor troubles as the telegraph being damaged by giraffes, and the train being delayed by running into a rhinoceros, although not usual in railway constructions, were not serious.—London News.

Newspaper Etiquette.

Parties wishing to enter the printing office at this season should be governed by the following rules: "Advance to the inner door and give three distinct raps or kick the door down.

The "devil" will attend the alarm. You will give him your name, postoffice address and the number of years you have been owing the paper. He will admit you. You advance to the center of the room and address the editor with the following countersign: "Extend the right hand about two feet from the body with the thumb and finger extended, the thumb and index finger clasping a $10 bill, which drops into the extended hand of the editor, at the same time saying: "Were you looking for me?" The editor will grasp at the hand and bill, and pressing it will say: "You bet." After giving him news concerning your locality you will be permitted to retire for an obligation properly discharged.

An Expensive Cook.

Mr. D. F. McClatchey, Jr., on last Sunday saw his colored cook, Lena Rudicill, on the street "diked out" in one of his wife's nice dresses. Monday Mr. McClatchey took Constable Morris to Lena's house and searched it and found about one hundred dollars worth of goods she had stolen from his house and carried to her home, among the articles were dresses, silk waist, under-clothing, silk umbrella, chinaware, etc. As Mr. McClatchey have been housekeeping about two months, they have concluded that a colored cook is too expensive a luxury and will now board.—Marietta Journal.

How They Were Mistaken.

A little girl, whose father was a poet and whose mother was an artist, was thought by relatives to be therefore surely destined to do some great and beautiful thing in the world, says the New York Tribune.

They felt confident, too, that they saw signs of this when she was very young, and interpreted all sorts of things the small girl did to mean much more than the child herself ever dreamed of.

One summer evening on grandpa's farm all the family went to the hilltop to see a wonderful sunset. The little girl's papa looked poems and her mamma likened the sky to the colors of great canvases, and lay members of the family expressed their admiration in various terms. Only the little girl said nothing.

"Look at her," whispered an adoring aunt. "What exquisite feeling there is in her face!" Everyone looked, but it was the old farmer grandfather who spoke.

"What's the trouble?" he asked of the small person sitting disconsolately by herself.

"Nothing," was the reply, "I kept everybody's so taken up with the sunset and I did so badly want to see the pigs get their suppers."

Henry P. Toler, brother of William P. Toler, president of the Elizabeth (N. Y.) Daily Journal, has got together a list of heirs who claim to own the greater part of upper New York. According to their contention the town of New Harlem never gave away or sold the water front or disposed of certain undivided lands. It was never asked and never consented to unite with the greater city. The scheme is to rehabilitate the old New Harlem government and demand its rights.

A Milwaukee man claims to have invented an aerial tricycle which he will exhibit at the World's Fair and win the $100,000 prize. His machine is 60 feet in diameter. It is to be propelled by human power. Aluminum enters largely into the makeup of machine.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cured
My Wife.

Dr. Miles' Nerve has been successfully tried in thousands of cases of nervous disorders, but never has it made a better record than when used in the treatment of fits or spasms. Thousands of testimonials prove this, and in nearly every instance the writer has stated that the fits ceased after the first dose of Nerve was given. The statement is repeated in the following:

"Seven years ago my wife commenced having spasms or fits and I called in my home physician and he said she was paralyzed. He rubbed her with salt water and gave her calomel and she eventually got some better, but in a short time she had another attack. She was confined to her bed for three months and the doctor could not help her. She had fits frequently, some times very severe. Her hands would clasp so we could not open them and she finally got so her jaws would become locked. Finally I saw the doctor was doing her no good and ordered a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. She received so much benefit from the first bottle that I got some more. She has taken a number of bottles but has never had a fit since taking the first dose. She also thinks very highly of Dr. Miles' Nerve and Laver Pills and is never without them. If there is any way of making the good the Dr. Miles Restorative Nerve did my wife."—Wm. Y. Allen, P. M., Ellville, Miss.

PERSONAL

To Sufferers From Kidney and Bladder Diseases

No matter how long you have suffered, FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE will help you. This we will GUARANTEE.

It has cured many cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes that had been thought incurable, however we do not claim that it will cure these diseases in advanced stages as no medicine can make new kidneys for you, but will positively cure every case of kidney and bladder trouble if taken in time, and even in the worst cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes it always gives comfort and relief.

Remember when the kidneys are affected the work of destruction never ceases, so commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once and avoid a fatal malady.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE is made from a prescription of a specialist in kidney diseases and was used for years in private practice before it was put on the market.

He Could Not Straighten Up

Thomas Maple, Birbeck, Ill., writes: "I had a very bad case of kidney trouble and my back pained me so I could not straighten up. The doctor's treatment did me no good. Saw FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE advertised and took one bottle which cured me and I have not been affected since. I gladly recommend this remedy."

Three Physicians Treated Him Without Success

W. L. Yancy, of Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in southern Kentucky treated me without success. I then took FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. The first bottle gave immediate relief and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy."

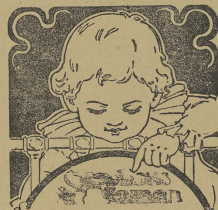

Suffered Twenty-Five Years

Seymour Webb, of Moina, N. Y., writes: "I had been troubled with my kidneys for twenty-five years and had tried several physicians but received no relief until I bought a bottle of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. After using two bottles I was absolutely cured. I earnestly recommend FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE."

The Star.

The following beautiful little poem was composed by Garner, the little nine-year-old son of Col. Huff, now attending the public school, in the fourth grade at Dahlonega:

Away to the North I see a Star,
Like a world of glory it shines,
Though miles, and miles and miles away,
O'er the tops of the Northern pines.
The Star gives light to the world,
Though millions of miles away,
And shines through the mists of glory,
And at morning it dies away.

GEORGIA IS GREAT
IN HER GOLD MINES.

By Wm. W. Murray, Associate Justice Federal Land Claims Court.

The southern people are slow in waking up and realizing the great possibilities of their own section. They seem to prefer waiting, watching, until their more enterprising neighbors from other sections come down and scoop up about everything that is first-class and begin to realize on their investment. This should not be. The south was never so prosperous. Her people are intelligent and capable of understanding the great undeveloped wealth of their own section. But there seems to be almost a total want of confidence in themselves as well as the natural resources of their own country.

I was born in Georgia and raised in the south and therefore claim the right to criticize the apparent slothfulness and lack of enterprise of my own people. We live in an age of progress in every department of business, the old-time methods are fast passing away. We must either strike a different pace or be run over by the procession. Take northeast Georgia as an example. No section of the country so rich in immense water powers and minerals of all kinds. What are we doing about it? Sitting around as usual, talking sentimental politics and allowing enterprising men from other sections of the country to get control of these great sources of wealth for a mere song.

A few years ago a man was thought by many to be crazy when he talked of running railroads, lighting and heating cities and moving great machinery of every kind with electricity generated by our water powers. Now, when it is too late to get in the hand wagon our people are seeing every day the realization of the crazy man's dream of only a few years ago.

Georgia is the empire state of the south—more progressive than any of her sister southern states. Her capital city is the Chicago of the south. Notwithstanding these facts, her people are not alive to the immense possibilities they have got in her undeveloped water powers and mineral resources. Gold, copper, silver, asbestos, iron, corundum, mica, in fact, all kinds of mineral to be found in a thoroughly mineralized country are to be found here.

I have been examining what is known as the Dahlonega gold belt from time to time for the past fifteen years. I have treated and had treated hundreds of samples of ores from all parts of the belt and I have no hesitation in giving it as my opinion that it is one of the largest and richest gold belts on this continent.

There have been many reports on this belt by geologists and mining experts. The first report was made by Clarence King, a geologist of national reputation, about thirty-five years ago. It was on his report that Mr. Barlow, of New York, purchased the celebrated Barlow mine. From that time to the present every report made on this gold belt has been most favorable. For the past several years I have spent much of my time in the west and know something of the mines there and the conditions under which mining is done and certainly know something of the mines here and the condition under which mining ought to be done.

Notwithstanding the fact that we have the largest undeveloped gold field in America, many of our people are investing their money in mining enterprises in Alaska and other mining sections of the west, which, of course, they have an undoubted right to do, but why not put at least a part of their surplus in the richest mines almost at their door. We have a splendid climate, abundance of timber, fine water powers and cheap labor. We can work three hundred days in a year, which cannot be done in any mining camp in the west.

There are a number of mines on this belt, some of which have been worked, in a way, for many years and much gold produced. The Barlow, Crown Mountain, Findley, Lockhart, Jambo, Singleton and many others. All these mines ought to be among the phenomenal gold producers of the world, and they will be in time. As before stated, many of these mines have produced much gold in the past, but not one of them would be considered even prospected if located in any mining camp in the west. It is true we have had some failures and the same is true of any other mining country in the world. The methods of mining employed here where failures have occurred would have proven a failure in any other mining country.

In fact, many mines here have paid for years that the same methods employed would have failed in any other mining section with which I am acquainted. There is no good reason why gold mining should be more hazardous than other legitimate business, provided you have a gold mine to begin with, and that can always be determined before expensive mining machinery should be erected.

Mining, like other business, must be managed by men who understand that business. The same honesty, economy and business methods must be employed in mining that are necessary to conduct successfully any other business enterprise.

Technical learning is sometimes necessary in some departments of mining, but good common horse sense is indispensable. It is all right for your superintendent to understand something about geology, but it is absolutely necessary to success for him to know how to find the ore bodies and when found to follow them and take out pay ore. If he has common sense enough to keep on pay ore without reference to what direction the ore bodies may run, and to avoid all expensive tunnels and shafts, hunting ore you are on the road to success in gold mining.

There has been as much gold taken out of the surface within 3 miles of Dahlonega as was ever taken out of the same amount of surface in any other mining country I know of.

There was near seven million coined here prior to the war, none of which was produced from vein mining. It is true that millions of dollars are taken from the ines of the west annually, and but little from this section. It is also true that hundreds of millions have been spent in the west in developing the mines and I may say almost nothing here. In fact, there has been more money spent in the development of a single mine in the west than has ever been spent in development work in this county.

It does seem to me that the people of the great state of Georgia owe it to themselves to at least take time to look over the immense undeveloped wealth in their own state.

A Queer Experiment.

The grafting of frog-skin on the hand of a patient has been successfully performed by Surgeon Westfall at the homeopathic hospital of the University of Michigan. Albert Witte, a furniture workman of Adrain, had his hand caught in a sander, and lost twenty inches of skin from the palm and back of the hand. Doctor Westfall secured a large live frog, and after destroying its brain, thoroughly cleaned the skin, sliced the white skin off its belly, and placed the particles on the area to be covered. These grafts were covered with a very thin rubber tissue, and that surrounded by dressing moistened by a common salt solution. After ninety-six hours the frog-skin grafts had united, the granulation on the surface of the raw hand had penetrated up through the frog-skin and projected beyond the surface of the latter, so that the whole surface appeared red.—The American Cultivator.

Rabun county is the place for old young men who are too bashful to go courting. A man from there was telling us the other day about a certain young lady of that county calling on a young man to carry him to church, but she had failed to write him a note asking him for his company and he was gone off on a visit and the young lady had to go with the young man's sisters.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 12, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

There are said to be 500 cases of yellow fever at Lorela, Tex.

Hall county has seven murder cases on the docket for the special term.

Over 100 coal mines have shut down in Colorado on account of 10,000 miners striking.

We have regained our health once more and are now ready for the political campaign.

It is said that more than 800 German families have located in Habersham and Rabun counties this year.

A white woman eloped with a Chinaman in Chicago the other day, showing that she has no taste for beauty.

The sale of the Gainesville & Jefferson railroad has been indefinitely postponed on account of some litigations.

There are several old darkies in Dahlonega who say they would like to go to Africa. Has any one any objections.

There will be a big increase in the school population. The returns are not all in but the number will be in the neighborhood of 720,000 children.

Three banks in the Cripple Creek mining district, Col., have been compelled to close owing to so many miners drawing on them since the strike.

Prof. N. H. Miney, formerly of Lumpkin county, was married a few days ago to Mrs. Kate Soseby. Mrs. Soseby was the mother of Mr. Miney's late wife.

The American farmer who is the fortunate possessor of a good farm, has abundant crops, and no mortgages to pay, should, more than all others, wear "the smile that won't come off."

We understand that Mr. Tom Ray, who is now in Tennessee in charge of a lot of hands on the railroad, will return to his home here time enough to make an active race again for sheriff.

The acts of the last legislature have been received by Judge Huff who requests all the Justices of the Peace and Notaries of each malitia district to call for them at once so as to post themselves in all the late acts.

It will not be long now before the Methodist conference convenes and it is hoped that a good minister will be sent to Dahlonega who is able to explain the Bible so all may understand, and preach religion.

Is it possible that there are men aspiring for office in Lumpkin county who expect to be hoisted by the wing of the democratic party at the approaching election who wouldn't even come out and lend a helping hand at the last election in the way of a single ballot in the primary?

News reached here last week that the safe blowers had been getting in successful work at the copper mines in Tennessee Thursday night. Three safes were blown open. In the one at Isabella post-office they secured $35. At McCays Mr. James B. Witt, formerly of Dahlonega, lost only $5 and Mr. McCay some papers.

A late telegram from Knoxville says: Plans are on foot whereby J. H. Stammann, who is on an inspection tour of the Tennessee Copper Company's properties, to utilize the sulphurous smoke which arises from these plants and kills all vegetation for miles around, which causes a large number of damage suits, to manufacture sulphuric acid out of the smoke. This will result in relieving the people of this section from the smoke and also start another large industry for Tennessee.

Auraria is on a Boom.

Mr. and Mrs. Stump of New York, arrived in our city Tuesday bound for the Etowah Gold Mining Co.'s property, and is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Jaquish at the mines. This mine is about 3-4 miles from our city and is going to be a great help to us as the Company intends to put a large force of men at work at once repairing the dam, cutting a large canal to carry water to the pumping plant and otherwise make such improvements as is needed to make this one of the best paying mines in our southern country. Success to you gentlemen, is our hearty wish.

Messrs. J. H. Smith & Bro. are erecting a very fine store building across the street from J. T. Millers store on the property that they recently bought of Mr. Miller. This is going to add much towards beautifying our growing city.

The Dahlonega Gold Mining & Milling Co. is going to do big things with the old Briar Patch. The Company will be down first of next week and action is going to be the word. This company has been somewhat slow but nevertheless it is sure. They first want to be right, and then move out, and avoid all mistakes. Those who own stock in this valuable mine will never regret being connected with this property, for once rightly developed, it will prove one of the best mines ever worked in this country.

Capt. McAfee is moving right along building mill house, erecting boiler and will soon have his plant ready to crush the ore he is having taken out near the mill house. The Captain thinks he has the biggest mine in the gold belt, and no doubt but what he has a very fine property, judging from the immense amount of ore he has in sight, and the way it pans, &c.

Mr. J. H. Summerer, Supt. of the Summerour Mining Co. is doing some good work at this place. His pump is doing fine work, and he intends to erect a good substantial mill in the near future.

The Betz is holding its own. Mr. Eldredge, the assayer, in charge, seems to know his business, and is hard to beat as an assayer. If he is as good as he is clever he'll take the cake any where. Success to you Eldredge.

Sovey and Miller are prospecting the Fry property, and are getting some fine showings. This is going to be an eye opener to the natives hereabouts. Plenty of gold in the Auraria District, and Auraria is going to be one of the liveliest mining camps in all this mining country.

Auraria is soon to have connection with the Bell Telephone Company and in the near future have an Electric Railway, and with the sound of stamp mills all around on either side, she is destined to be second to none of the cities in this upper country. Keep your good eye on Auraria, and come and procure a building site, before the great rush sets in. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Dr. Garner of Kansas City, is expected here this week. The Doctor is largely interested in the Briar Patch Mine and believes we have the biggest gold mining country in the United States.

JOAB.

Col. W. P. Price returned from Atlanta last Saturday where he had been to appear before the prison board asking for a pardon for Ben and John Beasley, who were sent to the penitentiary from this county twenty years for the murder of Pierce Grindle. The Colonel presented quite a strong petition. It was signed by the sheriff and ordinary, and nine of the jury who tried these men. Some colored persons names were said to be on the list and a few childrens, causing it to run up pretty well. On the other side was ex-tax collector John F. Sargent, who was on hand with a counter petition, said to contain most of the prominent people of that neighborhood.

Resolutions of The Dahlonega Baptist Sunday School.

WHEREAS, Our brother, J. V. Harbison, has seen it to his interest to remove from our midst and locate with his estimable family in the City of Gainesville, Ga. Be it therefore RESOLVED,

1st. That The Dahlonega Baptist Sunday School loses from its regular attendance valuable members in brother Harbison and his children, especially Missus Carrie and Mattie, all of whom have been of great help to our Sunday school and we give them up with regret.

RESOLVED, 2nd, That in parting with Brother Harbison and family we do so with reluctance; that we commend them to the good people of their future home as faithful and earnest Sunday school workers.

RESOLVED, 3rd, That the resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Sunday school, and that a copy be furnished Brother Harbison and family.

Miss Pearl Burnam, who has been here with Mrs. Strickland in the millinery business for some time, returned to her home in Cartersville last Monday. Her physician advised her to go where she could take more exercise, on account of her declining health.

After Harris Postell reached his destination at the chain gang last week near Macon, Sheriff Davis was notified by the company that he was not wanted at the price fixed for able bodied convicts. The sheriff wrote to the manager to allow whatever he thought was right and nothing has been heard from him since. Harris came near being burned to death once and is a bad subject for the gang.

Dragging Pains

2835 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groin. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

Local News.

Pork brought seven and a half cents from the wagons here last Saturday.

Corn got down to fifty cents per bushel in the Dahlonega market last week.

Mrs. B. P. Gaillard of this place, has been quite sick for several days with bronchitis.

Some more of the Dahlonega boys, who went to Alabama a few weeks ago in search of a better place, have returned.

Mr. G. McGuire visited Marble Hill last Saturday in company with his daughter, Miss Maude, to attend the funeral of Mrs. McGuire's father.

Work on the telephone line from here to Dawsonville, is moving right along. Last Saturday night they had the poles up four and a half miles and the holes dug eight and a half.

If you wish to take a hand in the city election go and register before the time expires. Those not having paid their taxes, either state or county, for any year except 1903, can't register nor vote.

If any one is shown any favors when taxes are being levied it ought to be the mining companies. They invest large sums of money here, give many idle hands employment and help the country generally.

Mr. Joe Ricketts of Dahlonega, attended another shooting match down in Dawson county last week. The shooting between Mr. Ricketts and the Dawson county gentleman seem to be pretty close. First one carries the belt and then the other.

It will not be but a few weeks now until the Mayor and four aldermen election. If you have a ticket to suggest send it in, so we can place it before the voters, then they will have ample time to study over the matter and make a good selection by the time the convention is called.

Some one slipped into our office and stole a scarf pin the other day. Pretty bold. It was gold and made in the shape of a bird. Any one seeing it will confer a favor by informing us of the fact. It only cost a dollar and a half, but with this pin and a claw-hammer coat on, fitted us up for all occasions.

While at work out at the Gorge dam last Saturday Charlie Dowdy had the misfortune to lose fifteen dollars in greenback and a twenty dollar order. It was loose in his vest pocket and worked out of it some way. He was pulling a rope, shoveling dirt and turning over big rock and there is no telling where he lost it exactly.

Mr. Jack Pencek, who is attending college at this place, was called to his home last week at Cochran, by a message stating that his brother Manley had been killed in a difficulty with H. G. Everett. Everett was shot in the groin and may die. The trouble grew out of a lawsuit in which Pencek was charged with alienating the affections of Everett's wife.

Photographer G. D. Bruce of Dahlonega, recently made a photograph of a big elephant representing the Jumbo Gold Mine in this county. This large beast is busily engaged with his trunk taking big pieces of rock ore from this valuable mine, which makes a very interesting picture. Mr. Bruce also made other photographs of things connected with the mine.

Last Sunday a certain lad of Dahlonega called on the girl of his choice. It was his first courting expedition, causing him to feel very much embarrassed, rendering him unable to think of anything to say, but the young lady was at no loss for words and kept up the conversation until the time came for her to take a walk with other girls. Then she excused herself and the boy left with a death like pale face.

Randa dots were received too late for last issue.

It rained some last night and this morning it is clear and pretty weather.

When you need any shingles, write Hutchison Bros. All orders promptly filled, Freda, Ga.

Mr. John Hatfield returned from Bessemer, Ala., where he went to look out a location, last week but left again yesterday.

The literary school at Glenn opened a few days ago by Mr. C. Shultz teacher. The attendance is small but prospects good.

Mr. H. D. Gurley of Dahlonega, had two common size apple trees in his yard this year to produce about eight bushels of apples.

D. M. Davis, and W. M. Keenan have been added to the indigent pension list of this county, and Mrs. Polite Cannon and Millie Cannon to the widow's list.

Not only farmers but others will find Prof. Davis' articles on agriculture in the Nugget each week very interesting. Read the last one on the fourth page of this issue.

We notice that many of the mountain farmers travel to market on Sunday same as any other day. Maybe if they would quit this the cabbage worm would disappear and they would find a better market for this product.

Subscribers who get their papers at other offices than Dahlonega should examine the dates on their Nugget and renew their subscriptions as soon as the time expires. Don't wait for us to stop your paper before you renew because it causes extra trouble. We will give all two weeks to do this and if they do not renew in that time the Nugget will fail to reach them. Remember that we are engaged in this business for the money there is in it not for pleasure by any means.

The sum raised here for the Methodist minister this year was $847, which makes $487 Pastor Marks receives, adding the $360 paid by the conference. This does well for an old man these days, and even young ones, for it is most all profit. We are told that the presiding elder was well pleased with the amount. So was Mr. Marks, for he made himself unpopular from the very beginning of his appearance in Dahlonega, and wasn't liked as well as most of the former ministers, and wasn't expecting as much for his services. Mr. Marks took his departure last Sunday.

At Mrs. John Hatfield's two cadets from Walker county named Kirkpatrick, were discovered yesterday to be breaking out with something resembling small pox, although the physicians say it may be chicken pox. It will be a few days before they can tell for certain. The young men say they have not been exposed to small pox, but for fear that it is, all the school boys of that house will be sent to cottages in the drill field, together with Prof. Hillier, who also boarded at the hotel. They are comfortably quartered and will be fed from the girl's dormitory. Mrs. Hatfield's hotel will be closed and the house quarantined by the city authorities until further developments.

The expenses of the last term of Lumpkin Superior court was $788, $406.00 of this amount was for jurors, $150.00 being talis jurors, and strange to say the money was paid to four or five, (one even said on an important case), whose names are not in the jury box, showing that the jury revisors of this county are not recognized in their work. And more than this, it is no encouragement for a man to be "upright and intelligent" if he can serve on the jury and draw the county money without it. As stated last week, $119.00 was paid to bailiffs—about half of this amount going to "professional bailiffs" who are not officers, never have been and were not even sworn in.

W. P. Price, Jr., has received a new line of all kinds of shoes.

Some matter crowded out of this issue. Will appear next.

Rev. J. J. Shed preached at the Baptist church at this place last Sunday night.

The young people have organized a Sunday school at the Glenn school house in this county.

Dr. Wheelchels little boy, Bennet, has been very low with pneumonia for several days but is some better now.

Col. Jones, president of the Candler's Creek Gold Mining Co., and Prof. M. G. Boyd, arrived at the mine last Friday after an absence of some weeks.

The other evening Mr. J. B. Brown killed a big owl in a tree at his house measuring four feet and four inches from tip to tip. Mr. Brown is a Methodist preacher and is death on anything that kills chickens.

It is reported in Dahlonega that Meta Stone of Nimbrowll district, eloped the other day with a man named Wm. Palmer, said to be a Tennessean. Last heard from the loving pair they were headed towards Sodda, Tenn.

At M. J. Williams you will find both cotton and wood cards. Fine lamps from 25 to 50 cents. Stove pipe and elbows, bread pans for stoves, etc. Ditching shovels at 75 cents a piece. Also beautiful eight day and other kind of clocks.

Heretofore we have been publishing the monthly reports of the public school here, charging nothing except for the principal to subscribe for our paper. This he has not done is why the last one is left out. This has always been the custom. A stranger moving into a place should certainly be willing to do this much towards a public enterprise.

Last week Deputy Collector Richardson came up and in company with Marshal Grizzle paid the blockaders in the western portion of the county a short but profitable trip. Both Wilburn and Jim Grizzle were running an illicit distillery at full speed. The former was brought to town and bound over by Coker Baker, but the latter is still at large. Being permitted to go into the house and dress up for his town visit, decided not to come, and left in another direction. These men have both served sentences for former violations heretofore and Judge Newman may give them a longer sentence when they appear before him again. Ben Clark was also arrested on an old warrant but as he had gone down some time ago and plead guilty up to that time, this case was covered by his sentence, and the man was discharged.

The boys tell a good one on our friend Mr. John Anderson, who resides up in Yaholaha district, John measures several inches over six feet from head to foot, and is as clever and good natured according. He is a farmer and a singing master. Not long ago John got mixed up in a settlement of his by having a small run of pure corn juice made for medicinal purposes contrary to Uncle Sams way of thinking. The secret leaked out and John was arrested, tried and bound over to the U. S. Court in Atlanta. A few days before taking his departure for that city and when this clever man was finishing up one of his singing schools and the time had come to close he talked to the congregation, telling them of his troubles, saying that it might be six months before he would see any of them again. He was listened to with much interest for all sympathized with their leader. For a few minutes everything was calm and still. You could have heard a pin dropped on the floor, and it was during these still moments that John requested them to all sing "God be with us till we meet again" and be dismissed. Then the leader and nearly every one present wiped the tears from their eyes and passed out at the door with as much solemnity as if they were in a funeral procession.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McClure of Dawson county, visited relatives here last Sunday.

Adline Austin, an old time negro, died here last Monday morning and was buried at the expense of the county.

While playing a game of football last Monday, cadet M. I. Seal of Alpharetta, fell and broke his collar bone.

Miss Morgan, who has been attending college here for some time, returned home last Monday to take charge of a school.

The market for cabbage has been dull. They have only been bringing from fifty to seventy cents per hundred pounds here this week.

At C. W. Satterfield's you will find cheese, oranges, coconuts, all kinds of pulverized spices and nearly everything else that is found in a general mercantile establishment.

Mr. S. S. Shutt, a member of the Consolidated Co., of Spencer-ville, Ind., in writing us last week makes these complimentary remarks about us: "Please find one dollar to renew my subscription to the Nugget. I can't do without your paper. It gives the mining news which we northern people want."

Elsewhere we publish the resolutions passed by the Dahlonega Baptist church recently, in reference to the departure from our midst our esteemed friend, Mr. J. V. Harrison and his family, showing how deeply they regret to part with them. We publish them with pleasure, for a few good things said about persons while they are alive are worth more than a thousand sayings after they are dead and gone.

A mountaineer, who resides the other side of the Blue Ridge, was in Dahlonega one day last week. His education is limited somewhat but he thoroughly understands how to till the soil. In reference to the cabbage worm scare, he said that it amounted to nothing. Put a big piece of meat in the vessel when cooking them, remarked the industrious man. Grease is a good "anecdote" for a poisoned dog, said he, and it ought to be for a person.

The last legislature repealed the act requiring Justices of the Peace and Notaries to furnish the tax receiver with a full list of the taxpayers of their respective districts, and have fixed it so now they are only expected to furnish the receiver on his second round with a list of all persons failing to return their taxes in each district, for which they receive three cents for each name. This is a good change and will save the county a good deal of money.

In a recent issue of the Atlanta Journal an article from a correspondent over estimates the mines of this section. He said that one in this county was expected to yield thousands of dollars per day. This is an error of the biggest kind. No mine here or any where else is expected to do such a thing, and we are very sorry that a man will come here and make such a misrepresentation. The mine he has reference to is a rich one and the value of its ores does open the eyes of the natives, and it is a big thing, but no thousands of dollars per day is expected from it by any one.

It seems that Esquire W. J. Worley has gone into the matrimonial business up at the colored Baptist church. Last Saturday night he wedded two colored couples, being John Anderson and Carrie Roach. And Will Elrod and Vesta Anderson. So much joy and happiness never occurred in any church, either black or white here before. The church was filled to overflow by both whites and blacks. Eb Simms, a waiter at the Dahlonega Hotel, having no life partner fell into a trance and while skipping out of the house dropped from the door to the ground, spraining one foot so badly that he had to use a stick and two crutches the next day.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Ashley shipped a barrel of mica containing 500 pounds from his new mine in this county to Toledo, O., last Monday. This sample is said to be fine.

On our first page will be found a sensible article concerning the Georgia mines written by Judge W. W. Murray of Huntingdon, Tenn., who spends much of his time in this section, and knows whereof he speaks. Read it.

At the Lockhart McDonald and others keep moving right along with their work. This is said, by those who know, to be one of the best deep mines in all this country, and in the near future we expect it to begin on a much larger scale.

Operations at the Singleton have been suspended for the lack of sufficient water, but since the rains the flow is stronger and Mr. Campbell has started up again. While the mill was idle he spent the time mostly in prospecting and informs us that he has some new discoveries that are good.

Messrs. John Huff and F. V. Moose, who secured a lease on some mining property over on the Chestatee river some time ago, have been engaged getting things in shape to lift the yellow metal from what is believed to be a rich mine, and will soon be ready to begin this work, which is very delightful to all miners.

The Jumbo still continues to show up well. Another valuable vein was discovered the other day. We saw a couple of little rocks from this vein beat and panned out and it was undoubtedly the best thing we have looked at in many days. Many gold bearing veins have been discovered on this property, both large and small, that are so rich as to surprise even the natives. One old native miner after visiting the Jumbo recently told us that if he had the money he would take a thousand shares of the stock.

We clip the following letter from the Atlanta News concerning the Georgia gold mines. It is certainly written by one who understands the situation, for every word the writer states is correct. It is like he says, no large sums of money have been spent here in development work as in the West and elsewhere. Had this been done our mines would compare favorably with any of the gold fields. Really they do so any way, for the Georgia mines have produced more gold to the money spent of any mines in the world. The statistics show this. Take for instance a single tunnel out West of 350 feet. It cost $150,000 to cut it 200 feet without finding a single particle of gold, and the stockholders were called upon for $150,000 more to finish it through solid rock. These are facts. Now to Mr. Greens letter. Read it carefully and give it an impartial thought:

"I noticed an article in yesterday's News relative to the Mexican gold fields and the inviting prospects offered Georgia capital.

While knowing nothing of the Mexican territory, I am acquainted with the western gold fields, having spent the last five years in that territory, mining in a practical way. After an investigation for the past three months of the southern gold belt, from Alabama to Virginia, I am prepared to say that nowhere in the west is offered a better field for mining investment than our own state, Georgia, offers her citizens today.

My investigations have brought me to this conclusion: That the belt, as a whole, is of a sulphide character, and consequently a smelting proposition. I do not mean to say that there are not free gold ores in Georgia, but that ore is "packety" and "streaky," which is not only true of high grade free gold ores in Georgia, but of the west, and in dealing with the subject I shall speak entirely of the sulphide ores—the smelting ores. I have seen in Georgia numbers of true fissure veins. I have obtained assays from the sulphide ores of Georgia of far greater value than the ores of the same character of Leadville and of Clear Creek and Gilpin counties, Colorado. The miners of Georgia know these assay values. Yet they fail, in most instances, to place the property on a producing and paying basis. There are two reasons for their failure and they are that the ores have not been either scientifically mined or treated.

These sulphide ores at surface practically at surface, ranging in depth from surface to 40 feet below surface, are in an oxidized condition. The values of the vein in that oxidized condition are partially free, and even in that condition the stamp mill will not save over 40 per cent of the assay value, for the reason that while the gold is apparently free, that it can be seen with the naked eye in the pan, it is not free, for it is covered with a transparent film of oxidized iron which prevents amalgamation with the quicksilver on the copper plates of a stamp mill, and only that portion of the gold amalgamates which comes in direct contact with the stamps, crushing the film and exposing ragged edges of free gold, which the quicksilver catches, and should that ragged edge not come in contact with the quicksilver, but the edge which is still covered with the film that gold passes over the plate and into the tailings and is lost.

While this ore is in that condition, an oxidized ore, at surface, the further the ore is removed by sinking from atmospheric action, the less even partially free gold is seen in the pan, and when the sinking is carried beyond the atmospheric influences and the action of the surface waters, we find the ore in a pure sulphide character and no portion of the assay value can be saved on the copper plates—the stamp mill process—the one entirely used in the past in Georgia. I have visited several properties where the ore, as exposed, is a sulphide ore and find them trying to save the values, as shown by their assays, with a stamp mill. These sulphide ores are a smelting ore, pure and simple. No other process will save them. They have to be roasted and fluxed.

Again the Georgia miner has, even with his stamp mill, in the treatment of the oxidized portion of the vein, made the mistake in thinking that all matter between the walls of a vein was ore-bearing, and has put through his mill all vein matter, regardless of that portion of the vein which was carrying the values and that portion of the vein which is barren. He has made no effort to sort the waste from the ore. In some instances he has even extended his operations into the walls from 2 to 3 feet, thus reducing the percent per ton, which he should save of an oxidized ore on the copper plates.

He has again reduced that percent by presuming that the vein was ore-bearing as far as he could trace it, and he has proceeded to treat in his stamp mill all of the vein as far as he could trace same. He has made no effort to ascertain the extent in length of his ore shoot, for is an admitted fact that a vein is not ore-bearing in its entire length, as far as opened, but that on the contrary, some portions of the vein, along its course from one point to another, will be ore-bearing; and then will come in a barren portion and remain so for some distance, vary in each particular case, and then again the ore will come in.

There is more feat of development work in shafts, tunnels and drifts on Mineral Hill, in the Cripple Creek district, from which as yet there has never been shipped a carload of ore, than there is in the entire southern belt from Alabama to Virginia.

Let the Georgia miner spend more money in development and less in stamp mills, and other processes, and after development ship his ore to his smelter, here at your gates, and Georgia will take her place among the best of the gold producing states of this country.

Heart Trouble Baffled Doctors.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cured Me.

There is nothing more necessary to health than sleep and rest. If these are denied you, if you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, there is an affection of the nerves plainly present. If your heart is weak, or there is an inherited tendency in that direction, your weakened nerves will soon to affect your heart's action as to bring on serious, chronic trouble. Dr. Miles' Nerve is a nerve tonic, which quickens the nerves, so that sleep may come, and it quickly restores the weakened nerves to health and strength. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a great blood and heart tonic which regulates the action of the heart, enriches the blood and improves the circulation.

Some time ago I was suffering severely with heart trouble. At times my heart would seem to stop beating and at others it would beat loudly and very fast. Three to four hours sleep each night in ten months was all I could get. One week in last September I never closed my eyes. I got Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure at a drug store in Lawrenceburg, after spending some time in medicine and doctors in Louisville, Shelbyville, Frankfort, Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg, and in three days have derived more benefit from the use of your remedies than I got from all the doctors and their medicines. I think everybody ought to know of the marvelous power contained in your remedies.

Agricultural Notes.

The United States Department of Agriculture is making experiments to determine the extreme life of seeds, and the results will, no doubt, expose the fraud of wheat gathered from Egyptian mummies and alleged to be several thousand years old and sold to farmers for the purpose of re-introducing old Egyptian varieties. Very few seeds will retain their vitality for more than twelve years, while most seeds lose life at from two to five years.

When we consider the illustrious men, who were agriculturists, we realize the farmer's occupation needs no excuse or apology. Washington's greatest delight was in agricultural pursuits; Jefferson wished to be known as a farmer and Webster took such interest in agriculture, that he invented a plow. Besides those mentioned above, Greeley, the editor; Whittier, the poet; McCormick, the inventor; Moody, the evangelist, and Grant, the soldier, were sons of farmers. The brightest student at Yale today is from the farm.

It is claimed that a fruit grower in Georgia sold his peach crop this year from his 30-acre orchard for $8,000 on the trees. This farm five years ago was bought for two dollars per acre. Another peach grower received $1.25 per crate in the field for his crop of 4,000 crates.

The United States Department of agriculture shipped, as a sort of experiment, one hundred crates of Elberta peaches from Marietta, Ga., to London. These peaches came from the orchard of Mr. W. B. Turner.

The American apple in some of the foreign markets brings a higher price than the American orange.

More attention should be given to fruit culture in Georgia.

Macaroni wheat was introduced into the U. S. only a few years ago. It is grown in dry regions where other varieties do not thrive well. It is a hard wheat and is difficult to grind, but makes excellent flour. The yield in the U. S. has increased in three years from seventy-five thousand to ten million bushels.

The largest farm in the Southwest is in Oklahoma. The wheat fields are one thousand acres each, and requires thirty binders three weeks to cut the crop, and a dozen or more steam threshers forty days to thresh it. The corn rows are one and a half miles long and it requires three hundred men and five hundred mules to handle the crop.

The German Government has recently contracted with the two expert cotton growers in Texas to go to South Africa to develop cotton farming there.

Certain soils in Texas have been found to be similar to the soils of Cuba which grow such fine tobacco, hence the Texans are given a good deal of attention to tobacco culture, while the Cubans are becoming more interested in the growing of cotton.

The tobacco expert of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has resigned his position in order to establish a large tobacco farm.

John G. Carlisle, Secretary of the Treasury under President Cleveland has bought a farm near Greenwich, Conn., and will move there.

CHAS. W. DAVIS, N. G. A. C.

The Ideal Home.

The foundation of modern civilization and the very cement of moral society are the family and the home. In savage life the spirit of individualism predominates; there is no instinct of solidarity, but as a man becomes civilized he realizes more and more the value of cooperation, and the more truly civilized he becomes the more coherent becomes the family and the home. Saver a man or a nation from the ideal of singleness of matrimonial alliance, the family and the home, and at once there is debasement in moral life, and woman, as some one has said, instead of being what God intended her to be, "a helpmeet to man," becomes his plaything or slave.

Home is the place that we love best, because it is the place where mother is, and there, because of her loving and fostering care, is the place of greatest earthly security. Man cannot create the home atmosphere; he may climb to great heights of fame; he may win great battles; he may triumph over all competitors, and thereby amass great riches; he may master the sciences, acquire a facility in innumerable languages, live or die, but man, with all his power, genius and native ability, cannot make a home. That remains the task of woman, and in this she remains supreme. Home ought to be the place where we can find the most refreshing rest. Home ought to be a place of genuine warmth; but some homes are as cold as ice, which breathe an atmosphere as cold as a breath from the polar zone. Let our homes be places of joy, love and brightest sunshine. Home ought to be a place of enduring love, the love which outlasts the wedding day and produces a life which is one long, unbroken honeymoon. Home is the molding place of character. Your child has a right to insist that you live such a life as will exalt the standard of true manhood and true womanhood. Your child has a right to demand that you do nothing to stain by sin the name you bear and which you bequeath to him as a life possession. Give your child a sweetly religious atmosphere in which to grow; not one of monotonous "don'ts" and "you must not," but one that presents the attractive side of Christianity. Let Christ be the unseen but truly recognized guest in your home, and teach your child the religion of "the Book."—G. R. Stair.

Mollie Melton, Alias Clarissa Owens, was arrested in Savannah recently for having drawn a large pension from the government, claiming to be her own brother's widow. In 1863 Isaiah Owens enlisted in the Thirty-fourth United States Volunteer Infantry. He served two years and then returned to his home on Whitmarsh Island, near Savannah, he being disabled. He died shortly afterwards, Clarissa Owens, wife of the soldier, died in 1870. When the law of 1890 went into effect, and every widow of a Union soldier became thereunder entitled to a pension, the sister of Isaiah Owens, one Mollie Melton, formerly Mollie Fraser, nee Owens, applied for a pension. Her claim was proven and allowed and she received $200; and later she received $300 more. At almost the same time that she filed her application under the law of 1890, she filed an application under the old law, in which she claimed an allowance of $12 a month from the date of the death of her husband (in reality her brother). The amount which would be due simply as a first payment on this claim would be $4,000.

A Physician Healed, Now Prescribes It Daily

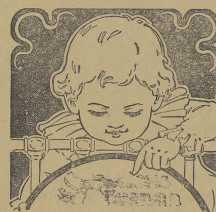

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician at Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE: "For years I have been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles, for I can honestly state I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success."

Had to Get Up Several Times Every Night
Mr. F. Arnold, Arnold, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney disease about three years. I was troubled and all run down, and had to get up several times during the night, but three bottles of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE effected a complete cure. I feel better than I ever did and recommend it to my friends."

A Valuable Gift.

The library of N. G. A. College has received, through Col. W. P. Price, two most interesting and valuable volumes, containing an account, written from short hand notes, of the trial of Aaron Burr. These volumes were published at Philadelphia in 1808, and are bound in half leather.

The following inscription was written in the first volume by the generous donor:

"Presented to the
N. G. A. College
By Martha M. Price,
Nov., 1903.

These volumes were in the law library of the father of the donor for more than fifty years, and are now rare books, out of print.

The reference to the jurists and statesmen of the latter part of the 18th century, and founders of the U. S. government, are very valuable and interesting.

On the fly-leaves of these books are written the names, "Wm. Martin" and "Bev. A. Martin."

Gifts like these are of priceless value to the young men of these years, bringing them in touch with the former times, when great things were done: "for in those days there were giants in the earth."

The college wishes to make this public expression of appreciation for so valuable a gift.

We learn from parties returning from Gainesville that one of the Cincinnati brothers of that city had a trick played off on him that beats the gold brick swindle. A few nights ago a stranger stepped into his place of business and after purchasing something pretended that he had lost his glass eye. The man was sure enough minus an eye and they both looked about in the room for it quite awhile. At last the stranger told Cincinnati that he would give $75 for the eye and if any one found it to send them down to the hotel, and stepped out. Soon afterwards another fellow appeared, apparently drunk, bought something and reached down and pretended that he found a glass eye. After looking at it he put it in his pocket. Cincinnati told him that he would give him $45 for the glass eye, feeling confident that he could soon make $20 if he had it. The drunken fellow told him all right, for he had no use for it. The money was paid, the man soon left, and Cincinnati carried the eye down to the hotel to turn it over to the owner, but to his surprise found that no such person had been there, and he was out just $30.

"Why didn't you jurors raise the taxes of those who failed to return their property at its true value?" was asked us the other day. Simply because too many jurors are helping to "eat the beef," and assessors will have to be appointed before any headway is made in this direction. They say "it is a serious thing to raise a man's taxes." So it is very serious for a man to make false returns under oath, and it would be a good idea to check some of them now so as to save them from running any risk of being caught alive by the devil. This is our view of it.

5,034 Men Deserted From Army

According to the annual report of the adjutant general of the army, which was made public last week, the present strength of the land forces of the United States is 3,681 officers and 55,590 enlisted men, in addition to 8,257 members of the hospital corps, the Philippine scouts and the Porto Rican regiment. Of these 16,346 are now in the Philippines and 43,688 in continental Alaska. The Legion guard at Pekin consists of four officers and 152 enlisted men.

During the year the number killed in action and who died of wounds or disease was 25 officers and 837 enlisted men.

Perhaps the most startling figures presented were those relating to desertion. They show that 5,034 enlisted men deserted, or nearly 10 per cent of the entire strength of the army. Those discharged for disability and by order of court-martial and by order aggregated 971. The total enlistments and re-enlistments during the year were 18,294.

The Dalton Citizen is like the Nugget, it frankly opposes foreign missions and takes the ground that all efforts should be concentrated on the heathens at home whose lives are foreign to the teachings and influences of Christianity. It says: "Talk about foreign missions! It makes us weary. We need missionary work right here in Dalton—the place where, within the past few years, four murders have occurred, and the punishment prescribed by law not meted out, and kids scarcely out of their swaddling clothes smoking cigarettes and blowing their brains away in smoke, and minors buying and drinking whiskey at will—surely, surely home mission work is needed."

The government distributes 1,000 tons of seed annually. Each congressman has 12,500 packages at his disposal. If you haven't got one, it's because your congressman has sent your pro rata to some one else. However, these seed are regarded as better vote raisers than vegetable producers. People who raise vegetables buy reliable seed.—Cobb County Courier.

In one year the shipment of American apples to Europe has tripled. Since September last the exports have been 1,008,000 barrels to Liverpool, 274,000 to London, 97,000 to Hamburg and 58,000 to other European ports. American apple growers have conquered a big foreign market and are holding it against anything but prohibitory laws.

A hospital to cost seventy-five thousand dollars is to be erected in Chicago, the physicians of which must use no alcohol in their prescriptions. The hospital will be called the Frances E. Willard National Temperance Hospital. The three schools of practice—regular, homeopathic and eclectic—will be presented on the staff.

We have forgotten her name, but the society woman in Washington who has invited Booker Washington to sit with her when he visits that city, should be sentenced to Zulu land for the balance of her natural life. She will be taken care of when she dies, correctly says the Gainesville News.

Boom the Town Too.

While every merchant is primarily interested in making his own business a success, he should not lose sight of the fact that anything which benefits the community benefits him. If a merchants' association succeeds in attracting more trade to the town it is so much gained for all of the merchants there. Each store stands to benefit. Merchants should co-operate with the local newspaper to attract more business to the town.

Properly supported, the editor and his paper can assist greatly in attracting trade. The editor should push the circulation of his paper into the districts for the trade of which his town is competing with others. Every town in some quarter comes in competition with other towns for a certain amount of every desirable trade. The town which has the newspaper with the widest circulation in that district is the best armed for that contest.—Hartware Trade.

The Liberty Bell.

The decision recently announced that the Liberty bell is not to be taken on any more junketing trips is said to be due largely to the influence of the women of Philadelphia. They protested vigorously against sending it about over the country as a course inconsistent with its historic dignity. The protest was most just. The Liberty bell belongs in Philadelphia, where it pealed forth its historic announcement. It has about as much meaning anywhere else as a chip off the Bunker Hill monument in a private cabinet.—New York Tribune.

An Editors' Predicament.

An editor near Custer, L. T., got a cattle show and concert mixed up, and now he has to keep dark. This is the way he did it: "The concert given by Roberson's most beautiful young ladies was highly appreciated. They sang in their charming, winning the plaudits of the entire audience, who pronounced them the finest herd of short horns in the country. A few are of a rich brown color, but the majority are spotted brown and white."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, NOV. 16, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The North Georgia Conference is now in session at Griffin.

All the striking miners in Colorado have returned to work.

Over 100 arrests were made in Atlanta last Sunday, on account of intoxicants.

It is reported that 10,000 persons have perished from the famine at Cape Verde Islands since last March.

The "wet or dry election" for Hall county takes place December 14, and both sides are ready for a big fight.

At Union, S. C., last week a negro enjoyed hanging so much that at his request his neck was stretched two hours before the time.

The fighting bailiff in Atlanta, who went to make a levy and left a sign of his official visit by breaking a negro woman's arm, has resigned.

Governor Terrell announces that $250,000 will be made to the school teachers of Georgia on December 1st, which will be glorious news to them all.

A Sunday night negro frolic near Albany resulted in George Peak shooting six of his color through the cat hole of the door which was closed on him.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day and many a fine gobbler will be carved by the wealthy while maybe scores of poor people will go hungry for even bread.

At Tampa, Fla., a big monkey tried to steal a lady's child the other day. Send that monkey to Dahlonega and let it take off those boys who loaf around and won't go to school.

By the time you get ready to put your name before the public asking for an office, we will have the price fixed and see that all your friends hear of it through the columns of the NUGGET.

The good citizens of Gainesville have undertaken a hard job. They held an indignation meeting last week and will make an effort to cause the blind tigers to close and bad women to leave the city.

Col. R. J. McCamey of Dalton, and Hon. O. M. Starr, of Calhoun, will oppose Judge Fite and Solicitor Maddox of the Cherokee circuit. Mr. Starr is an old N. G. A. College boy and we hope he will succeed.

The Columbus Enquirer-Sun's Annual trade edition of last week contained 60 pages and told all about the wonderful growth of that wide awake city. Her citizens should feel proud of that envying paper.

Messrs Brookshire and Waters, nurserymen of Lumpkin county, spent a night this week with Mr. E. F. Waters of this place. They took back a 4-horse load of trees from the Crawford Nursery to supply their orders.—Ellijay Courier.

A movement is on foot, says the Atlanta Constitution, to bring back the remnant of the Irwin county colony of negroes who emigrated to Liberia, many of whom have succumbed to the hardships and suffered. This is the way it goes. Curse the negroes and want them to leave when crops are made, and ask them to return when plowing time comes.

The alleged violators of the law at Gainesville, who have been ordered to leave the county, announce that they will stay and fight the Law and Order League in the courts. This, we believe, is the proper way. Then if they are found guilty of any violation of law let them be punished severely, if necessary, and not pushed off on some else.

Our Trip to New Bridge.

In company with Mr. W. W. Crisson we visited New Bridge last Sunday, being the first time we have been there in quite a number of years. We took a peep at the Electric power plant and visited the Hager dredge boat, meeting with many of our friends and patrons down there, and although it was Sunday we were handed the money for several new subscriptions to the NUGGET. The Hager boat was recently sold to a company and its machinery is being moved to Florida. This boat has been successfully operated by Mr. Hager for a number of years, but most of the people of that section optioned their property to a company not long since and when Mr. Hager worked out all the property he controlled he was at the end of his row, causing the dredge to have to shut down, and by the time these options expire and the company should fail to take the property this boat will be working down in Florida and the people of New Bridge will have nothing to mine the beds and banks of the Chastotee river with and will learn then to be more careful in the future not to option their property unless something is paid down for trouble, delays and "hold ups."

We never met a more hospitable set of people than reside at and about New Bridge. Their doors were thrown open to us and a hearty welcome extended and a number of invitations were given for us to dine with them at noon both in Hall and Lumpkin counties. Of course we couldn't accept but one and that was the one given by Mr. West Hulsey, who was in charge of the plant. After showing us all the magnificent machinery which runs the street cars of Gainesville, lights up that enterprising city as bright as day fifteen miles away and turns the wheels of our friend Craig's job presses, Mr. Hulsey would have us visit his home. Here we met his good wife, aged mother and several interesting little children. In a few minutes dinner was announced ready and we partook heartily. It was good enough for a first class preacher. We don't wonder at West Hulsey looking so hale, hearty and fat. He has plenty to eat and some one who understands how to prepare it. Long may all these good, kind hearted people live and prosper.

Thinks We Are Booming.

The following letter from a banker at Miamisburg, O., received last Sunday explains itself.

"I did not get my paper last week. Don't like to miss a single copy. I see you are booming Jumbo. Is Crown Mountain to be let rest or will you revive it later?"

We are not particularly booming Jumbo. Only publishing facts. If you don't believe them either come or send some one to see. And we believe that you will find that we are not publishing Jumbo as rich and valuable as it really is. Now about Crown Mountain. It is a valuable mine when sufficient water can be had to run it, which is being arranged now by the construction of the Gorge water power and it will not take a great while to complete the dam if the weather continues favorable. That is if the mine is managed properly. General Warner can't be equalled by any one in this country in the construction department, but we differ with his views somewhat when it comes to mining.

At Denver, Col., last week, Mrs. Edith Jackson found her husband sleeping in a rocking chair, and without disturbing his slumbers, put a pistol behind his ear and blew out his brains. This may cause other husbands not to be so sleepy headed hereafter.

Two white-men and six negroes were arrested at Brunswick the other night while playing cards together. What a lovely crowd.

Out of 69 applications sent in for pensions from Bibb county recently only 24 were allowed—13 veterans and 11 widows.

New Law on Posting Land.

There has been a big change in the law relative to the posting of land.

The general assembly at its last session materially changed the law relative to posting land, making it easier to post land against hunters or fishermen.

Under the law the county commissioners or ordinary of each county must furnish the clerk of the superior court a register for the use of those who desire to post their land. The land owner must first put up two notices on his lands, calling attention to the fact that hunting and fishing is prohibited. He then calls upon the clerk of the court and registers his land, giving a full description of it. From and after that date it will be unlawful for any person to hunt with dogs, firearms or in any other way upon such land, inclosed or not inclosed, or to fish with hook, net, seine or in any other way in any stream, lake, pond or lagoon on such land.

The law provides that if such notices as are posted become destroyed or defaced this shall not be cause for defense.

The law also provides that when tax receivers of the state begin making their rounds they shall carry the register with them, and shall register persons who desire to post their lands. Except when the tax receivers are on their rounds with the register it shall be kept in the office of the clerk of the superior court. For registering those who desire to post their lands the clerk or tax receiver, as the case may be, is entitled to a fee of 25 cents for each person registering.

Hon. Harvey Jordan is still holding Farmers' Institutes and later on in all probability he will be around asking the people to support him for governor.

INDIGESTION

"I was troubled with stomach trouble. Theodor's Black-Draught did me more good in one week than all the doctor's medicine I took in a year."—MRS. SARAH E. SHIRFIELD, Kennesaw, Ind.

Theodor's Black-Draught quickly invigorates the action of the stomach and cures even chronic cases of indigestion. If you will take a dose of Theodor's Black-Draught occasionally you will keep your stomach and liver in perfect condition.

THEODOR'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

More sickness is caused by constipation than by any other disease. Theodor's Black-Draught not only relieves constipation but cures diarrhea and dysentery and keeps the bowels regular.

All druggists sell 2-cent packages. "Theodor's Black-Draught is the best medicine I have ever used."—MRS. A. M. GRANT, Sneads Ferry, N. C.

Local News.

Gen. Hardin of Kentucky was here last week.

Tom Cronen of this county, was bound over last week for illicit distilling.

Mr. Foster of Washington, D. C., has been among the visitors here this week.

Mr. Nobles of Chicago, was here this week looking over the mining property.

Rev. James Higgins will preach at the Dahlonega Baptist church next Sunday and Sunday night.

Dr. N. F. Howard has been housed up about two weeks on account of his bad health but we are glad to state that he is better now.

Why don't our Wahoo and Grace friends petition the postoffice department for a change in their mail schedule so they can get their papers published here on Thursday, before Saturday?

Rev. J. J. Shed preached an interesting sermon at the Baptist church here last Sunday. It was an old time sermon with no red tape attachments and was full of interest from first to last.

There was such a demand for the Nugget last week that we couldn't supply it. Persons can't expect but few copies unless they speak for them before we begin to strike off our first side early Monday morning.

City Marshal Walker paid some of the citizens above Porter Springs a two or three days visit last week. While there he and another man found a rats winter quarters in an old dead tree, from which they gathered at least a half bushel of good chestnuts.

We are very sorry that any of our exchanges copied a recent letter published in the Atlanta Journal about the gold mines here, for the report is very much exaggerated. We hope that the next Journal man visiting our city will find in facts and not imaginations.

Mr. O. Hager, who has been down at New Bridge for the past six years running a dredge boat, will leave this week for Bear, Kansas, where he expects to make his future home. We regret to see this gentleman take up his abode elsewhere and hope that he may yet make Lumpkin county his home.

Mr. John Hutcheson, one of Aunrias' most clever citizens was up to Dahlonega awhile last week. Mr. Hutcheson is the gentleman who brought that big turnip back from the west. It weighed 28 pounds. Although they raise big turnips and many other things in the west, Mr. Hutcheson prefers Lumpkin county to a home.

There are two old people in this county, a man and his wife, one 66 and the other 63, who have made 200 bushels of corn this year on ten acres of land and paid out only $1.50, and other things in proportion. Are not some of you men who swore that you were not able to earn $40 a year ashamed of yourselves? We think we would be.

We don't believe in men being allowed to shoot pigeons in town here. If a bullet went no farther than a man's own premises it would be all right, but as it is it is dangerous. There is nothing pigeons can hurt at this season of the year. Rabbits do more harm in the suburbs than pigeons and if a man was to kill a rabbit it would cost him not less than $5.00.

Our esteemed friend, Mr. C. H. Scott, who built the big Consolidated Co's. mill here a few years ago, is still at Denver, Col. Yet far away he still likes to hear from Dahlonega. He sent a dollar for the Nugget last week and his best regards to all the good people of Dahlonega. We all like to hear from Mr. Scott and hope that at some future time he will pay our city a visit.

Last week the goods belonging to A. S. Whelchel, deceased, were sold at public outcry down at New Bridge.

New stationery and new type just received. If you need any job work, send us your order and you will receive it promptly.

Letters received by Anderson & Jones last week show that the land deal will certainly go through. That is where the titles are perfect.

Beginning the first of next month the Gainesville and Dahlonega mail via Garland will leave here at 12 o'clock, and arrive here at 2:30.

Our friend Hon. G. D. Bruce has sent us a photograph of the plant at Ducktown, Tenn. We were never there and this splendid picture gives us some idea of what a big thing the Ducktown copper mines are.

It may be yet that Judge Kinsey will carry out the request of the recent grand jury by appointing Capt. J. W. Woodward, as all the present registrars terms expire first of January and new ones will have to be appointed.

For several years past Miss Lila Reid, a daughter of Mr. Wm. Reid, has been carrying the Yalobusha and Dahlonega mail. From now on her presence will not greet us here as often as in years gone by, as the lady was wedded last week to Mr. Arthur Jackson.

The stock law down the country is beneficial to those raising hogs in the mountains where such a law doesn't exist; as some of them are making more money trailing on hogs than at any thing else. Mr. Marion Gurley of Union county has sold several loads down there, and disposed of 25 pigs in Dahlonega last week.

A message was received from some one below last week by the sheriff telling him to look out for Aaron Satterfield formerly of this county, so we understand, but we failed to learn what Aaron had done. If Aaron came this way he didn't let any one see him and still enjoys his liberty as far as we know.

And still another mountaineer heard from. It is said that a certain Union county farmer went down to Gainesville not long ago with a load of grown roosters, and finding no sale for them on this account, drove off in the woods, pulled all their tails out and next day returned and sold all his entire load of young chickens.

We learned from a gentleman passing through Dahlonega last week that Mrs. Bud Seabolt of Union county, who is only about 35 years old, went suddenly blind one night last week. She went to bed seeing as good as ever but when she awoke the next morning her eye sight had left her and she could not see a thing. It is certainly a strange occurrence.

A few days ago we picked up a diary on the streets containing many interesting notes occurring in 1899, kept by a young lady. One note reads as follows: "Sunday morning I went up to see Jesse and Eliza and was introduced to Mr. McIntyre. We went to the League. He came home with me. Brother John told me not to go with any college boys, but I couldn't help myself for Eliza and I were together and one came up to her just as he asked me. I don't know what brother J. will say. He wanted to call but I did not tell him he could."

As the recent acts of the last legislature hadn't been received when we made mention of a change in the jury law and only published it as we heard it, we were mistaken a little. A special juror who serves at one term can serve on the next grand jury, but a grand juror who serves at one term can't sit on the next special jury. This is a good change and will save the county money, because if a juror returns a true bill against a person he can't sit on the case and a trial is required, and the regular juror gets both pay and rest.

Do you want a good nice bed quilt cheap? If so go to J. F. Moore & Co.

White beans brought $2.25 here last week from the wagons.

When you need any shingles, write Hutcheson Bros. All orders promptly filled, Freda, Ga. If

The annual fall term debate of the Decora society came off last Monday night. We learn that the debaters interested all present.

Last week's type made us say that "Mrs. Millie Gannon" had been added to the pension roll. It should have been Mrs. Millie Crow.

A subscriber at Argo, Fannin county, informs us that he only receives his Nugget about once a month over there. What's the matter? Who is it cheating this man and stealing the news.

If a safe blower was to tackle Dahlonega's postoffice safe he wouldn't get anything of value. Mr. Tate takes no risk whatever and deposits his money in the bank where a watchful eye can be kept on it both day and night.

The telephone line from Dahlonega to Dawsonville will soon be in operation. Later on we expect to see it extended into Pickens county, giving us direct communication with towns along the Marietta & North Georgia Railroad.

Notice.—To all who are indebted to Anderson & Jones, by note or account, will please come forward and settle at once without further delay or trouble. As the time has come when all notes and accounts for the year 1903 should be paid, in order that we may be able to meet our obligations in market.

Mr. Elsie Garrett from across the Blue Ridge, is one of the few persons this season whose orchard is doing him any good. He has gathered 125 bushels of apples and has been partially supplying our market with nice fruit at $1.00 per bushel. He saved 200 bushels last year and has a very fine orchard. Other farmers living in the same neighborhood have good orchards but the crop was almost a failure with them.

Cabbage snakes seem to be very scarce. We bought four hundred pounds last week and our better half made them into kraut. One merchant from whom we purchased the first lot said that he would give us 25 cents a piece for every snake we found in the cabbage. This was one time snakes would have been profitable to us but not a single one could be found in the four hundred pounds. The person who fails to prepare something to eat for winter and next spring, for fear of cabbage snakes, will go hungry and look pretty lean before vegetables come again.

You will observe by the tax collector's notice elsewhere in this issue that he is going to commence his last round right away and close his books on the 19th of December. Now get ready for it and do not drag along until the book closes on you and have to pay cost for a f. fa. Many of you have not returned much and it will require but little money to settle what you say you are due the state and county for taxes. In many cases a peck or two of peas, or a few pounds of leaf tobacco will settle off the tax payers account in this county with the collector.

Some of our merchants are continually complaining of hard times. If they would fix a cash price for produce and not hesitate to pay out money for such things, it would draw a great deal more trade to Dahlonega. Farmers are going where they are not compelled to take trade for nearly everything they sell. They need money as well as other people to meet their demands. Why not pay the farmer money for his produce as well as business men in other cities for their dry goods and notions? By doing this you can hold much trade at home and keep busy and not lose money. One merchant in Dahlonega does this and see how fast he is getting rich.

Dr. Whelchel's little boy is still improving, and has every appearance of recovering.

Our friend Col. J. H. Moore is out again after being confined to his room near three weeks.

We received by mail this week an order for a lot of letter heads down at Shellman, Georgia.

Big line of mens, boys and misses' caps and rubber over shoes, all sizes, cheap at M. J. Williams.

Mr. Wm. Ricketts is taking down the machinery of the Hager boat and Mr. W. W. Crisson has the contract of delivering it to the railroad.

Mr. Luck, a college cadet, got his nose pretty severely mashed last Monday while playing football. Not disfigured enough however, to keep his sweetheart from recognizing him.

Will Carroll, colored, got on enough mountain dew Saturday night to cause him to misbehave and Monday morning the result was he had to pay a fine of five and cost—eleven dollars in all. Add this to the cost of the liquor and it makes it a pretty expensive drunk.

Postmasters who have been giving their friends, who are not subscribers, other peoples NUGGETS, will please not do so any more. A hint to the wise is sufficient. And when a persons paper is missing it is not your fault. Send them to us, for we mean to see that a paper for every one entitled goes to the office.

Charlie Anderson, a little eleven or twelve year old-boy of Liz Dick, was bound over by Squire Worley to the Superior Court in a bond of one hundred dollars for throwing rocks at Garner Huff. The negro had to go to jail and will likely have to stay there till court. It would have been so much better, and cheaper on the county had the Squire given the child's mother a chance to come into court and give her boy a severe whipping.

Wilburn Grizzle of this county, was tried by Com. Baker last Saturday night and bound over for the second time in less than two weeks for operating an illicit distillery. This time his bond was fixed at $400. On the 6th, Grizzle was found running a still, and brought to town and bound over. And last Saturday the officers found him back at the same place with a new still taking care of what had been turned out on the ground a few days previous. And by being saving in this manner he may have to serve a term in the U. S. prison.

The other day Fermon Carroll, col., went to a lady here in town and secured her horse and buggy to go out into the country to see his dead mother he said. Then he told the lady that she could procure the money for the hire of the vehicle from merchant M. J. Williams. The boys mother lives here in town, and the lady failed to get her money. What was the result? Uncle John gave his boy such a beating that he will never forget it. If other parents would always do this when they get into trouble it would save their children often from going to the chain gang. The chain gang is a poor place to reform a boy.

Our friend Mr. W. T. Bryson, an old ex-confederate soldier, who served three years and eleven months in the defense of his country, was in Dahlonega last Saturday. He has already lived his three score years and ten but is enjoying good health and we hope his life will be spared many years longer. He and Dave Anderson are among the first men who left this county for the war under Whit Anderson on the 18th day of March 1861. "Dug" Bryson and Tip Hester were the next. Dug lives in Dawson county. Whit Anderson is dead, and Hester is somewhere in the West, one eyed. Caused by a robber shooting it out on a train that Hester was firing. We are always glad to meet up with any of these old soldiers.

See pump for sale elsewhere.

Dr. Brown of Dalton, was in the city a few hours this week.

Mr. H. H. Thomas of Dahlonega, is moving to Gainesville.

Mr. J. B. Brown has built him a nice, comfortable dwelling down on his farm.

If you want to wear the best pants the country affords for the least money, they are easily found at ANDERSON & JONES.

Maj. Tillson delivered a very interesting lecture on the arts of war to the cadets on Tuesday afternoon.

We had a very good thunder shower last Tuesday which will likely help some of the miners needing water.

A new feature has been added to the college course. This is the actual study in spelling. Dr. Avis uses practical judgment in what is necessary for a true education.

Mr. W. H. Tatum, who was here in college two years ago, is back with the student body again. Mr. Tatum is from Pickens county, which is well represented in the college.

The weather has been warm and fine up to the present. Only too cold spells this winter until last Tuesday after a thunder shower. Two crops of several kinds of vegetables could have been raised here this year.

G. W. Walker, Sr., was bound over by Com. Baker last Tuesday night, charged with owning and operating an illicit distillery. The still was located a short distance above his house and destroyed not long since.

The people of Dahlonega using electric lights last Tuesday night, were like Moses when the candle went out, caused by a bolt of lightning the afternoon before doing some damage to the line down about the plant.

The clerks new book has been received for all those who wish to register and post their lands under the last act. The law requires this before you can keep hunters off of your property. See the law published elsewhere.

We are informed that the pauper coffins here cost the county from $10 up to twelve or thirteen maybe. Why not have just one price coffin and buy all alike and not put one person away nicer than another? Home made coffins for this purpose never use to cost over $6. One of the undertakers here informed us that he would take all round at $10 each. Why not let them out to the lowest bidder as a former grand jury recommended? This would reduce the cost considerably.

The small-pox scare is about over. The Kirkpatrick brothers are most well after a very light attack, and there are no new developments. Not even Mr. Collins, who roomed with these brothers all the time has developed a case yet, nor no one else. The authorities, both city and college, have taken extra precaution in this matter. How these young men caught the disease is a mystery unless it was contracted by putting on some last years woolen underwear that might have brought the germs here. These young men occupy a separate cottage in the drill field to those who were exposed to it. Their meals are carried and put down where they can come out and get them and no one is endangered in the least. They have a string band and while not reading enjoy themselves with their instruments. Mrs. Hatfield, in whose house the disease broke out, is also quarantined. The rooms occupied by the boys have been thoroughly fumigated. The Nugget will keep you posted by dealing in nothing but facts and you may all rest assured of this. Dr. Brown of Dalton, who has relatives in school, came in last week and after making an investigation, instead of taking his boys home told them to keep on studying, for he didn't see any danger. The military exercises are held on the public square now.

Mining Notes.

The Singleton is moving along as well as could be expected with the amount of water it has.

The copper mine in this county has closed down for a few days, we understand, till they can determine where to start their main shaft.

Mr. A. L. Duesberry of New York, has been here this week looking over the Whim Hill property with a view of purchasing it. If he does he will get something good for it is among the best mining properties in Araratia district.

The Huntington mills at the Crown Mountain plant will soon be removed for the purpose of putting light stamps in their places, so as to get ready to resume work. These Huntington mills have in every case been more expensive than profit in this county, easy to get out of fix, besides requiring much power to run them.

We would be glad for any information concerning the gold mines of this county. Nothing but facts are wanted. When we tell our readers about a mine here we want him to be able to come and find it just as well, if not better, than represented. It pays no man, nor benefits any company to get up exaggerated reports about the mineral resources of any section.

A gentleman passed the Calhoun mine while they were cleaning up last week and informed us that he was shown gold in all shapes and sizes. The clean up was only about half done and the gold looked to be about 300 pennyweights, said this old miner. Mr. Wharton, the owner of the Calhoun, has mined also in the West. In the West where labor was four dollars per day and everything else high according, he made a failure. Here he has met with good success.

The prospecting on the Jumbo continues with unabated activity. The last discovery was not only a rich vein but at least two hundred feet north of where the lead was supposed to have ended. This gives two hundred feet additional to the gold yielding zone. This vein has been cut in two places one hundred and fifty yards apart, showing beyond doubt its continuity. We learn that in a new tunnel, just started, just north of shaft No. 1, two veins of good mill ore have been cut. If the discoveries of new veins of good ore count for any thing, Jumbo may already be put down as one of the largest gold mines discovered in this section or elsewhere. We learn that the work in the shafts is progressing rapidly and in one of them another vein of mill ore has been touched. The management is preparing the necessary data for their prospectus, which will soon be issued and an advance in the price of stock announced, which the new discoveries now justifies.

Mining is like everything else. If it is not conducted properly it will be a failure. Look at the celebrated Barlow when it was worked many years ago by Mr. Pride. It failed. Mr. Hand then purchased the mine and put Mr. John Huff, our present ordinary in charge, and he soon got it in shape so as to make thousands of dollars. Mr. Fregent, the present lessee is making it pay now. The Singleton was the same way. While Mr. John Weaver worked it he made money. Then it changed hands and was a failure under its management. Mr. J. F. Moore then took hold of it and made big money, and the mine is paying today under Mr. W. G. Campbell's management. The dredge boat business was the same way. After several failed to make anything Messrs. Birch Bros. succeeded with the management of Mr. Keenum as superintendent. They sold out to Messrs. Ingersoll & Crisson. They tried it awhile without much success. Now they have Mr. Keenum with them and are doing well. It takes a man in charge of a mine who understands his business to make any kind of mining or any kind of business a success.

Mother

Lost Reason After LaGrippe.

Daughter Had Frequent Spasms.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Them Both.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is a specific for nervous disorders. It removes the cause and effects a speedy and permanent cure.

"I feel it is my duty to let you know that your medicines have cured my little girl of nine, of spasms. She commenced having them at the age of three. Our family doctor said she would outgrow them but she did not. We took her to another physician who said her trouble was epileptic from a mild form. He did her no good either. She was so nervous she could hardly walk. As I had already used Dr. Miles' Nervine and found it a good remedy for myself I commenced giving it to my child. I gave her in all ten bottles of the Nervine and one of the Blood Purifier. That was over two years ago and she has not had an attack since we commenced the treatment. She is no longer troubled with nervousness and we consider her permanently cured. I enclose her picture. My mother-in-law lost her reason and was insane for three months from the effects of LaGrippe. Six bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine cured her. My sister has also taken it for sick headache with good results. We all thank you very much for your good medicines and kind advice. I don't think there is any other medicine like it. I and my daughter's photograph so that you may see what a sweet little girl lives out in Arkansas."—Mrs. HANNA BAKER, Springdale, Ark.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

A Queer Post-Office.

An Eastern gentleman who had business in a small town in the Far West ordered some important letters to be sent there for him, and on his arrival went to the post-office to inquire for them.

"No letters here for you," said the postmaster.

"They ought to have been here yesterday."

"Couldn't have got here yesterday. Old Brown, who carries the mail, was intoxicated, and didn't go over to Losco after it."

"And how about today?"

"Well, he's sober enough today, but his old woman has cut her foot."

"But there will be a mail to-morrow."

"Scarcely sir. We don't have any mail on Thursdays."

"Then how about the next day?"

"Friday is a sort of off day with the Losco post-master, and he generally goes fishing. If he doesn't happen to go he sends the boy over. I never count on it, however."

"You seem to have a slipshod way of running postal affairs out in this part."

"Well, I don't know but we have," he admitted, as he looked over the top of his spectacles; "but as long as nobody but Uncle Bill Simpson ever gets any mail—and that's only a circular about how to kill cock-roaches—we take things easy, and let the United States run along by herself."—McCall's.

Paid No Compliments.

A lawyer who spent the briefest days of his career in New York City and is now a successful practitioner in the West tells how a master of the telling phrase taught him to curb the thunderous voice with which nature endowed him, says the Mail and Express.

In those days he was "a vociferous cub," in his own phrase, until Justice P. Henry Dugro lifted him into the seventh heaven of judicial approbation—and suddenly let him down again.

He had been assaulting the ear drums of the court for ten minutes and he concluded by saying: "I am sure my argument must be convincing, your honor."

"It is overwhelming," returned Justice Dugro, courteously.

The young lawyer's chest expanded.

"Indeed, my ears are still buzzing," added the justice. "I deny your motion."

The Beggar Won.

The beggar asked a Philadelphia stationer one day for help, the latter offered him two lead pencils, saying, "With half the effort required in begging you can easily sell these for 5 cents apiece."

The beggar gazed at the pencils scornfully. "Who'd give me 5 cents for them?" he demanded.

"Why, anybody," said the stationer. "Go out and try it."

"Would you?" asked the beggar.

"Why, certainly," was the reply.

A smile of triumph spread over the grimy features of the mendicant.

"Here you are, then," he said. "Gimme the 10 cents. You can't go back on your own word."

It took the stationer several minutes to recover his breath, but he finally entered into the deal, and hereafter he will adopt other tactics.

Stopping a Leak.

He was taking a country cousin around town showing her the sights, and in his effort to appear as the "real thing," was particularly lavish with his tips, says the New York Press. No one who waited on them got less than a quarter for the most trifling services.

The country cousin wasn't born yesterday, and when he put the second quarter down on the same table she slyly picked it up and put it in her purse. When a call-boy brought him an evening paper—he had been given 5 cents to buy it with—the "real thing" put another quarter down and the girl quietly took that also. When the waiter brought the check for their dinner the man laid a dollar bill on the plate, and this also the girl promptly "lifted." But he saw her do it this time and whispered:

"What's the matter? Don't you think I gave him enough?"

"Oh, yes," she said, sweetly; "but as I took the others I thought I'd take that, too. I hate to see good things wasted."

Advertising, says an exchange, is the life blood of business. Every good advertisement will start the ball to rolling and keep it rolling. Continuous advertising creates confidence. The people believe in a business man who can stand trial by the public. No business man can afford to stop advertising unless he is contented with his business. The man who is contented with his business has no need to advertise, for he has reached the flood of the tide. But after flood is the ebb always. That nothing can stand in state of rest is one of the laws of nature. Everything grows or decays. No business can remain at a standstill for any length of time.

Seed distribution from Washington has begun, and according to recent act of Congress its members will this year be able to give out to their constituents more garden and field seed than during any previous year. $270,000 was appropriated for seed distribution for the coming season. This means a thousand tons done up in forty five million packages.

Samuel R. Findley, for six years a deputy sheriff of Hall county, and the first Sheriff Dawson county ever had, having been elected when the county was laid out in 1837, died at his home in Memphis, Tenn., November 4th. He was an uncle of Col. W. F. Findley and was well known to many of our older citizens.—News.

Local industries are the best paying of all investments; the money invested is kept at home, the working people are paid and spend their money at home, consequently home industries pay both coming and going, truthfully says the Marietta Journal.

The story from Washington that $30,000 worth of seeds belonging to the agricultural department have been destroyed by worms, suggests the need by this administration of vermifuge as well as fumigation. — Augusta Chronicle.

A Merchant Cured After Having Given Up Hope. Foley & Co., Chicago.

Gentlemen:—I was afflicted with Kidney and Bladder trouble for six years and had tried numerous preparations without getting any relief and had given up hope of ever being cured when FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. After using one bottle I could feel the effect of it, and after taking six fifty-cent bottles, I was cured of Kidney and Bladder trouble and have not felt so well for the past twenty years and I owe it to FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. FERTILIZERS.

A fertilizer is any thing that aids or increases the production of farm crops. Nitrogen, phosphoric acid, potash and lime are the essential fertilizing elements, because they are more important than some of the others which plants require; and a soil is useful in proportion to the amount and availability of these constituents contained in it. These four only are liable to be exhausted by any system of cropping.

Usually in speaking of plant food we use the word "form." This term "form" thus used refers to the union of the element or constituent in question with others, the combination or association in which it is bound. In other words we may say the word "form" serves to point out, so to speak, the company the plant food keeps. For instance, we may say that potash occurs in the "form" of sulphate, i. e., this plant food exists, united with sulphuric acid as sulphate of potash, differing from the muriate, carbonate, silicate or other forms in which it might have occurred. There are many of these forms. Some are useful, some inert and some at times may be harmful. Then we may say the form in which a fertilizer occurs, is an index to the availability and service to plant life. To illustrate: phosphoric acid united with one part of lime, is soluble in water, but when united with three parts of lime it is insoluble. In the last case the form is undesirable because the several solvents of the plants and soils break down such combinations and thus render them available for plant food. Again when we treat phosphate rock with sulphuric acid, its phosphoric acid is made soluble and plant roots can disintegrate the new union and use it. The phosphoric acid has not been changed in any respect; but its form has been altered.

NITROGEN.

Nitrogen is the most expensive element of fertilizers. It is a colorless, tasteless, odorless gas, comprising four-fifths of the air and is essential to all organized life, whether animal or vegetable. It is the principle ingredient of flesh, milk, &c. We apply it as a fertilizer in the combined state; and when thus combined with other elements in minerals or organic materials it is, to a great extent, available to all plants. In the gaseous state only the leguminous plants have the power of using it. This process of taking free nitrogen from the air and storing it in the plant, is due to a living germ which penetrates the roots and multiplies rapidly, causing the nodules so often seen on the roots of peas or clover. Growing leguminous crops is the cheapest way of supplying nitrogen to the soil. Nitrogen is present in mineral or organic compounds in amounts usually varying from a fraction of one per cent to twenty per cent.

We use nitrogen as a fertilizer in three forms, as nitrates, as ammonia salts and as organic matter. We will speak briefly of each form.

1. The strong acid known as nitric acid is formed by the union of hydrogen, nitrogen and oxygen as HNO₃. Now if the "H" in the acid is replaced by a base as potassium or sodium, we have the salts called nitrates which we call potassium nitrate and sodium nitrate. The two nitrates just named are the only two used in the fertilizer trade. Nitrate of soda is a dirty, whitish, coarsely-crystalline salt which gathers moisture rapidly from the air. It is soluble in water and is immediately available to plants. Care should be taken in its use, as it is liable to be lost through leaching in certain soils. The commercial product if pure contains about sixteen per cent of nitrogen. Its use is rapidly increasing where its advantages are known.

2. Nitrogen with three parts of hydrogen forms a gas, which, when dissolved in water, makes the well known ammonia water of the drug store. The gas of ammonia combined with sulphuric acid forms ammonia sulphate, about the only ammonia salt used as a fertilizer. It is derived chiefly as a by-product from the manufacture of coal by the dry distillation of coal. It is sometimes secured in the manufacture of bone-black for sugar refiners.

3. The third form is organic matter. This form is obtained from a variety of sources, and is composed of both animal and vegetable matter as cotton seed meal, dried blood, ground bone, fish scrap, tankage, &c. These materials are not soluble in water, and thus they are not immediately available to plants. By this we can readily see, that their value as a source of nitrogen, is measured by conditions which favor the rapid change of their nitrogen into an available form.

As plants assimilate nitrogen only in the nitrate form, we must then change all forms of nitrogen to the nitrate form. This change is brought about in the soil by a process known as nitrification, i. e., the work of bacteria mentioned above.

All the functions of nitrogen are not thoroughly understood, but it has been observed, that it promotes stem and leaf growth (and if in excess sometimes delays seed and fruit formation); deepens the coloration of leaves; and may increase or lessen the amount of nitrogen in the plant according to the amount used. Then if there are large quantities of nitrogen in the soil the leaves will be vigorous and of a dark green color, while the flower and seed will be somewhat retarded. On the other hand, if there is a deficiency of nitrogen in the soil, then a more scanty foliage is noticed and the seed is apt to mature earlier than usual.

A School Farm.

Of four hundred acres of land of the farm belonging to the Agricultural and Mechanical College of North Carolina, 300 have been in crops this year. Early in the year there were wheat, oats and rye, which were followed by corn, cowpeas and different grasses, the purpose being never to leave the land bare of crops. The work on the farm, which has included the clearing of rocks, stumps, small pines and shrub oaks from the land, is done by the students, who are paid at the rate of ten cents an hour as an aid toward meeting their tuition expenses. Under this system the farm has been brought into a high state of cultivation and is making money.—Ex.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

A woman never knows why she loves a man, he never cares. Some people are so naturally wicked they don't get any worse even when they go into politics. Once there was a woman who did not believe every word in her love letters; but she never got any. If a man knows how to make his garden grow his wife can believe he knows how to do most any thing. You can never make a girl who knows how to make an angel cake believe she wouldn't be a useful wife.—Exchange.

Stopping a Car in Chicago.

"There are just as many ways of stopping a street car as there are of skinning a cat," said an old Evanston citizen as he stood at Wilson avenue and saw his car flash by according to the Chicago Chronicle. "And I believe there are thirty-nine ways of skinning a cat," he continued as he shook his fist at the conductor on the disappearing car.

It was an angry crowd that surrounded the old man. Some of them had been standing on the corner for fifteen minutes. Others had been there twenty minutes and some not so long. Some had seen three cars pass without stopping and some had seen only two.

"Well, just try one way, old man, and pass up the other thirty-eight," said one prospective passenger as he saw another car bearing down upon them. The old man scratched his head. Then he beckoned to the driver of a coal wagon. Then the old man took up a collection, "Contribute freely, gentlemen," said the exhorter. "It's for the good of cause, and if you make it interesting enough I guarantee to stop the car."

The hat went around and the old man called to the driver of the coal cart.

"Could you be induced to drive across the track?" asked the old man.

The driver looked at the glistening coins and said he might.

"Well, here comes a car. The chances are that it will pass, but the chances are that it won't if you drive your wagon across the track. In the first place, the cart is heavy. That is a guarantee that the car won't pass. In the second—"

"Told on! Do I get the money?" inquired the driver.

"You do," was the answer, and the cart was across the track when the car was still a block away. The motorman struck his gong, but the driver stuck to his post. The motorman saw that he could have or avoid a collision. There was no collision. The car came to a stop. The passengers got on, cheered the old man and threatened to gag the conductor if he didn't stop his swearing.

Back From the West.

Mr. Tate Simmons, formerly of this county but now of Oklahoma Territory, is back on a few weeks visit to relatives and friends. We are always glad to see him in our midst. Mr. Simmons spent a half an hour in our sanctum last Tuesday, talking about the West and its great advantages over this country. He left here nineteen years ago to better his condition and in this effort he has not been fruitless. He tills the soil and deals in cattle. This year he made 3,000 bushels of oats and 4,000 bushels of wheat, which gives some idea of what the gentleman is doing in the way of farming. Mr. Simmons has been in three of the great rushes for land in the West, who succeeded the first time in getting a claim and the other trips he only went along merely for the pleasure and profit there were in the runs of carrying others. Some of his associates succeeded in procuring claims. Others failed. Many who secured claims at different times got dissatisfied and left them. One of them was Mr. F. J. Williams, now of this county. The claims he abandoned is now worth about seven thousand dollars, says Mr. Simmons. Acey Crenshaw, John Hutchison and Warren Wheelchel were in one of these runs with Mr. Simmons. Mr. Wheelchel remained in the West and the other two gentlemen returned to their homes in Hall and Lumpkin counties. They preferred the home of their birth to the West. Mr. Simmons says that there are so many changes and deaths of his friends and relatives during his absence that it causes him to feel sad every time he comes here to his old home, and when he departs this time he never expects to return again.

W. T. Townsend's Appointment.

Mr. W. T. Townsend of Pickens county, and a member of the Junior class in the N. G. A. College, has recently been appointed by the United States civil service to go to the Philippine Islands as teacher. Mr. Townsend stood the examination about three weeks ago and was very much gratified when he learned of his appointment. While his friends in college, and also out of college, regret to see him leave before his course is complete—all extend him a hearty word of cheer in his recent promotion.

This is only a fair example of what the diligent young man of today can do with himself. This young man has practically risen so far by self exertion. He came to the N. G. A. College six years ago and entered the lowest class, and has since that time rivaled some of the best students as he came on up to Junior. He has won the esteem of all his classmates and friends. He has studied hard and devoted his time well to his college work. Besides an excellent record, he has won special honors, some of which are the following: Second "B" class declamation medal, 1st Freshman declamation medal, 1st Sophomore declamation medal. In the military he was 3rd Sergeant in "A" class, 2nd Lieutenant in Freshman, 1st Lieutenant in Sophomore, and in his Junior he holds the ranking captaincy in the Cadet Battalion. He was also on the champion debate last year, representing the Decora Society with his colleague, Mr. Harbin, both of whom distinguished themselves as speakers.

This is only one of many cases of the fruit the N. G. A. College always bears. She has been sending out some of Georgia's soundest men in the past, and she will doubtless be a greater contributor in the future. So, in whatever line Mr. Townsend may succeed, or to whatever degree of success he may attain may be always remember the "site" of the Blue Ridge mountains as one of his best friends.

Mr. Editor:
As I did not have time to visit the press while there, I thought I would write you a brief sketch of my short visit while in Dahlonega. I had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Wheelchel who entertained me for a half an hour on various subjects as you know he is second best to none in making all pleasant around him.

I then visited the electric power dam, now nearing completion on the Chastee river. From there to the copper mines, crossing a new survey from Gainesville to the copper mines, where they are hoisting a lot of ore called copper, Captain Chester in charge. Now having off the stock law, the high price of mules and cotton, will pass on and can only speak of some feasts I taken, as a compliment to Mrs. Dora Burns and Mrs. A. J. Kana's, then starting home with my lunch basket full of veal, backed up by cakes to eat on the way.

I must stop writing as I fear this will go into your scrap basket.

FEMALE WEAKNESS

642 1-2 Congress St.
PORTLAND, MAINE, Oct. 17, 1902.
I consider Wine of Cardui superior to any doctor's medicine I ever used and I know whereof I speak. I suffered for nine months with suppressed menstruation which completely prostrated me. Pains would shoot through my back and sides and I would have blinding headaches. My limbs would swell and I would feel so weak I could not stand up. I naturally felt discouraged for I seemed to be beyond the help of physicians, but Wine of Cardui was directed to me. I felt a change for the better within a week. After six days of treatment I manifested without suffering the greatest I usually did and soon became regular and without pain. Wine of Cardui is simply wonderful and I wish that all suffering women knew of its good qualities.

Witheline Simon
Treasurer, Portland Economic League

Periodical headaches tell of female weakness. Wine of Cardui cures permanently nineteen out of every twenty cases of irregular menses, bearing down pains or any female weakness. FOR SALE BY DR. C. H. JONES.

Most of the defendants in Savannah arrested under the vagrant law were released at Chatham Superior court recently because no one could be found that would swear against them. The net loss to the state of Georgia by the burning of the Science Hall of the state University recently amounts to $18,000. The building and equipments were valued at $13,000, on which there was an insurance of $5,000.

Local News.

The pork raisers got half a cent more for their meat in Dahloanea last week than they did the week before—8 cents.

The farmers ought to make some money now as every thing they produce is in demand at a good price except cabbage.

Don't forget that the registration book for the city will soon close now and if you fail to register it will be your own fault.

Some persons complain of having nothing to do, yet when you have any work you want done it is a hard matter to find any one who wants the job.

Several of those who neglected to renew their subscriptions to the NUGGET will miss their papers this week. You can see when your time expires same as we can.

The boys who go out hunting should spare the cats. A good house cat is worth more than many of the little shirt tail boys who get out at night bawling, and smoking cigarettes.

The little six weeks old child of Mrs. Mattie Hurley, nee Miss Mattie Moore, formerly of Dahloanea but now of Atlanta, died on Saturday and was brought up to Hall county for interment last Sunday.

Elsewhere you will find a municipal ticket suggested by a subscriber and friend, which is a good ticket had our name been left off. If we were elected as one of the aldermen we would have no one to curse.

A few weeks ago Messrs. Hutchison Bros. inserted a four or five line local in the NUGGET about their shingle machine, and they have been running it both day and night and then are unable to keep up with their orders.

Some farmers were here last week from Gilmer county with green apples to sell, but found them pretty dull at one dollar per bushel owing to the market having been supplied a few days ago by some of the fruit raisers of Union county.

Mr. W. F. Duckett went down last Saturday to take charge of one shift at the New Bridge electric plant in place of Mr. West Hulse, who goes down to the Chattahoochee dam, a few miles from Gainesville to assist in the installation of the machinery for that plant.

The vagrant law has caused all idle hands in Dahloanea to get a job. We are told that there are quite a number doing nothing in the country in some places but playing the fiddle and attending frolics. If the country bailiffs would do their duty most of this would soon stop.

The case between the Pyrites and the Cavender's Creek Companies, recently argued before Judge Kinney at Gainesville, was decided in favor of the latter company and it has been carried to the Supreme Court. We hope to see this litigation end at an early day so the Cavender's Creek Co. can proceed with its work.

Col. W. A. Charters, Solicitor General, is attending Hall Superior Court this week. The case of the state vs. Mrs. Onie Tanner, charged with the murder of her husband, has been in progress all the week. Tanner's father swore positively Tuesday that Mrs. Tanner confessed to poisoning her husband immediately after his death.

Rev. Ellison R. Cook, who was located in Dahloanea a few years ago while presiding elder of this circuit, withdrew from the North Georgia Conference at its meeting at Griffin last week, and will hereafter follow some other occupation besides that of preaching. We are informed that while here Mr. Cook got in debt, gave checks on banks that were turned down, causing many of his friends in Dahloanea to lose confidence in him as a minister.

Col. and Mrs. R. H. Baker visited White county last Saturday and Sunday.

Both the cabbage snake and smallpox scare is over in Dahloanea now.

Postmaster W. H. C. Tate has recovered so as to be able to be at his place of business again.

Mr. Chas. H. Donally, agent for that great Southern daily, the Atlanta Constitution, was here this week.

Mr. Julius Brown and ex-postmaster Fox of Atlanta, are in the city looking over the Jumbo property.

We had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Bockus of Chicago, yesterday, who is here looking over the gold fields.

The estimates for the timber land secured by Anderson & Jones of Dahloanea, in Union county, was in our city this week.

Last Sunday up in Chetatee district Mr. M. L. Seabolt was wedded to Miss Celia Ann Porter, a daughter of Mr. Kenzie Porter.

Maybe with the beginning of 1904 we will have something good to tell you for Dahloanea when the holidays are over and everything gets quiet.

Uncle Joe Brown comes to the front with a five pound turnip, the largest we have heard of this season. The weather was too dry for turnips much.

Wonder if a Christmas tree is going to be had at either church? If it is expected and is only intimated the Sunday school lists will begin to swell at once. Children like Christmas trees.

There are two parties who live near the line of the corporate limits. One claims that he lives in the city and the other that he resides in the country. Although they occupy the same house.

Bro. W. B. Woodward, of the Signal, was presented with a new baby boy first of last week, and he was too busy playing with it to get out any paper, is why our contemporary didn't appear.

Miss Jane Satterfield of this county, was adjudged a lunatic by a jury last Monday. She was an inmate of the pauper's home. This leaves only a little boy, her sister's child, at the home now.

Yes, there has been a good deal of eight cents pork selling from the wagons here during the cold season, but it all comes from a no stock law section. Those living in the stock law district have no meat to sell. They generally have to buy, but it is their own fault by letting some influential man having more land than he cared to fence, lead them into it.

From one tree Mr. H. D. Gursley gathered three pecks of pecans last week, amounting to more than five dollars by the wholesale. Dr. Howard has often said pecan trees would thrive well in this section and the success Mr. Gursley has had with one tree alone demonstrates it. This tree was set out in his front yard thirteen years ago while it was about one year old. Besides bearing good valuable fruit it makes a good shade, almost as well as the maple. Suppose that all the maples in Dahloanea were pecans we would have enough fruit for home consumption and some to spare other markets.

Some time ago Jeff Ward, a lad, was fined for some bad conduct and allowed to work the streets without being shackled. He soon got tired of the job and left out for Ducktown, Tenn., where he remained some weeks before coming back. Last Monday the Marshal got wind that he had been here and was leaving. The officer jumped on a horse and overtook Jeff about four miles on his journey, where he finished paying up and resumed his trip to the smoky regions of Ducktown. Jeff seems to be in a streak of bad luck. The other day at Ducktown he undertook to jump his board bill, which he paid after being arrested.

Mr. Meaders commenced stringing the wires of the Dahloanea and Dawsonville telephone line last week.

If we have made any mistakes in the revision of our subscription list this week let us know and we will gladly rectify them.

Last Saturday we had a variety of weather, such as rain sleet and sunshine. A very cold, disagreeable day. But on Sunday the clouds cleared away, the weather moderated allowing all to attend church who desired to do so. Some snow fell here yesterday.

Mr. T. R. Lombard of Chicago, who used to reside at this place, writes a friend that he thinks he will locate in Dahloanea soon and go into the peach industry. This is a fine country for peaches and the man who starts an industry of this kind will do well.

NOTICE.—All persons in debt to me are requested to make immediate settlement or same will be put out for collection. If you are due me anything this means you. Don't think it is for the other fellow. Take notice and save cost. M. J. WILLIAMS.

The preacher didn't bring us the wood on subscription a month ago he said he would. When preachers fail to carry out their word how can we expect others to? Such as this is a poor example for preachers to set. Now, it may be that we got the benefit of his prayers for we have wood enough to do us for months—by paying the cash for it. Had we waited on him we would have been frozen as stiff as a poker.

Under the present rules adopted by the college this year the students are all making rapid progress with their studies. The study hall takes the place of demerits. When a young man falls behind he is required to go to the hall where he can be instructed by one or more teachers at night. Had this plan been adopted before there is a number of young men whose names we could mention who would be getting the benefits of the college today that had to withdraw to keep from being expelled on account of so many demerits.

Last Saturday at noon the quarantine at the Hatfield House was raised and the eight or ten school boys who had been kept in quarters over at a cottage in the drill field for several days, were permitted to return to the house, resume their studies and go where they please. They had been exposed to the smallpox and this precaution was taken so as to prevent its spreading. It was a little confining but the boys stood it all right without a murmur. The two young men who had it are still held at another cottage in the drill field, where they will remain until they become thoroughly well and there will be no danger. Mr. Collins, who has roomed with the two boys before and during their sickness, has not contracted the disease yet. He was vaccinated as soon as he found that his roommates had it and may escape.

Uncle Dick Whelchel, one of our oldest and best citizens, was imprisoned the other day for a short time but he made his escape. He had gone into the ordinary's office to sit by the fire till the mail was opened. Attorney Huff, a son of the ordinary, was the only person in the office at the time and when he got ready to go out he closed the door after him as usual and locked it, not thinking of Uncle Dick, and went home. When Uncle Dick thought the mail was about up he made an effort to get out but found the door locked. He knocked, thumped and yelled, but no one was near enough to hear him and he got no relief. Then Uncle Dick raised the sash of one window and looked down below about six feet. It was pretty high for a man of his age to jump but it was his only means of escape that night, and down he went safe to the ground. Hereafter when Uncle Dick takes a seat in the office and all the rest start out he will be close behind them.

The little negro boy Charlie, charged with assault, has made bond and is out of jail.

Today is Thanksgiving and we are thankful that we are living and the NUGGET is prospering and has been traveling the high road of success for several years.

Aunt Manervie McMillan, the old blind negro woman who has been paralyzed for some time, died last Thursday and was buried at the expense of the county.

Gen. Warner and his good lady were in the city a few hours last Friday. The General has been east for some time but brings back no railroad news that we know of.

The daily mail from here to Wild has been discontinued and is now coming only three times a week and brought by the Stay mail carrier. Comes and goes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Mrs. Bud Seabolt, the lady who went blind one night so suddenly in Union county was brought over for the physicians to examine her eyes last week by her husband, but whether they can do the lady any good or not is yet unknown.

The time is about up for the United States Leather Co. to take the timbered lands bargained for in this county some time ago from Messrs. Anderson & Jones, but if this company doesn't take it, another company is ready, so we learn, to pay the money for all this property at once.

A man from an adjoining county last Monday wanted to subscribe for the NUGGET, but because he couldn't get it like his county paper, 75 cents a year he didn't take it. We never did let any one have the NUGGET for less than $1.00 per annum and when we fail to make it worth that we will quit the business.

We publish on our first page a letter from a correspondent showing what the Germans, who located in the wild woods of Alabama, are now doing in the way of farming. This shows what industry would do. There are hundreds of acres of land in Lumpkin county that would produce as well if the people owning it would show more industry.

As we stated last week the copper mine in this county had closed down for awhile until they could decide where to locate their main shaft, so it was said. Our notion is that the company will not start up again until they have some assurance of transportation. They have abundance of material there but it is not worth a dollar to its owners unless they can get railroad facilities. Much money has already been spent by the company in development work with the hopes of getting a railroad, but our belief is now that very few more will be expended until they are certain of a steam horse. As far as we are concerned we have lived in Dahloanea nearly 50 years with no railroad and think we can tough it out to our journeys end without one. This is the conclusion we have come to. We have been promised a railroad ever since we can remember and the outlook doesn't seem to be any brighter for one now than it was many years ago. Talks cheap but it takes money to build railroads. The people of the north are not going to put money in a railroad to this place until we show more liberality towards the enterprise.

We all pretend that we desire a railroad but let one start to be built and we would want to get rich by requiring heavy damages for the road to pass through a fifty dollar farm. Such as this will cripple any enterprise.

Corn sold here yesterday at 60 cents per bushel.

The business houses here are closed on account of Thanksgiving today.

Homer Parks of this county, was bound over here yesterday for illicit distilling.

Green apples have only been selling at 80 cents per bushel from the wagons here this week.

Mr. J. E. McGee will have his residence completed and expects to move in next week, down below Col. Prices.

Mr. Marion Smith of this county was wedded to Miss Anna Sutton last Sunday, a daughter of Mr. James Sutton of White.

Remember that you can't get less than a thousand envelopes or letter heads printed at many offices, but we will print as small amount as you want but of course it will cost you more in proportion than a thousand.

T. J. Smith & Bro. have leased the stand they occupy for another year, besides the lot and cottages thereon of the old Joe Parker lot. They are spreading out. They advertise in the NUGGET is one reason of their success.

The Phi Mu Society will give a public entertainment next Monday morning up at the hall. A special programme has been prepared. The debate will be on: "That the coming woman is a man." The ladies are all specially invited. Every body come!

Our old friend and patron, Mr. R. C. Wood, after spending several months on his property a few miles above Dahloanea, returned to his winter home at Defunk Springs, Fla., last Tuesday. We wish him a safe journey and a quick return to our city.

Why don't you subscribe for a NUGGET of your own and not depend upon borrowing one every week? Be a first class gentleman so you can sit out any where and read it cross legged and so you can be put down in our good public spirited column.

Mr. Will Childers, after an absence from Dahloanea for some time, returned again this week. When Will takes a notion to leave a place he disappears almost as suddenly as a ghost, and comes back the same way. This clever fellow use to live here and we all like him.

Dahloanea's next Methodist preacher is Rev. J. D. Turner. Rev. Mr. Mark, who preached here this year, is assigned to Bethlehem, in this district, and Rev. Noel White goes to Tilton, in the Dalton circuit. Rev. W. L. Pierce was re-appointed presiding elder of this district.

The present adoption of school books for Lumpkin county has been out for nearly a year and the patrons and teachers are getting along with the least books possible until the state board decides upon the kind to use. The Dahloanea public schools were adopted for five years and will not be out for a year or more yet.

Mr. W. G. Campbell of Dahloanea, although the season has been very unfavorable for sweet potatoes, raised about seventy-five bushels in his garden this year. Several years when the seasons were favorable Mr. Campbell has raised over a hundred bushels on this same spot of ground. This shows what a productive soil we have in this country, and the money that can be made in farming right here in this mountain section with the proper industry used.

Judge Huff is making an effort to get the little Satterfield child, left alone at the pauper's home in this county, since its aunt has been adjudged a lunatic, into the Orphans Home at Decatur. The little fellow is left without any relatives able to care for it. He is six years old and very bright for one of his age, having no chance, and if it could get a place in this noble institution where it could be properly trained and educated, it would make a useful man some day.

Mining Notes.

Messrs. John Huff and F. V. Moore have their lift now in operation over on the Chetatee river and the prospects for a good yield of gold is very bright. They have already struck new gravel that pans well. These gentlemen are both native miners of many years experience in the business and we feel confident of their success.

There is nothing new to report from Crown Mountain. The work at the Gorge is being steadily pushed. The belated parts of the machinery is nearly all delivered. It takes time, money and work to build a forty-five foot dam and haul the machinery thirty miles. The waters are so low that it is hardly probable that the mill will be started up before the new power is installed. Interested parties will have to exercise "yet" a little more patience.

Mr. Jaquish, who is getting his mine ready for operation down near Auraria, was in the city a short while the other day. The gentleman feels sure of success because he has a good gold mine and plenty of water to operate it with on his own property, convenient to the mine without having to depend upon any one else for it. Besides this, he expects to employ those acquainted with this belt to carry on the work, coupled with his sound judgment.

Another new and valuable mineral has just been discovered in this county, being a vein of Plumbago, used for cedar pencils. It was found a few days ago up in Yahoola district on property belonging to Mr. Thomas Lee. The vein is near the line of Mr. John Buttler's land and no doubt can be cut in his as it runs in that direction. You need not give old Lumpkin out even if she has no railroad facilities, but she is now furnishing the power to run cars in an adjoining county, and we trust at some near future day Lumpkin will have the privilege of enjoying railroad facilities herself.

The Lockhart continues to move right along, under the supervision of Mr. Thomas McDonald and others, with splendid results. This has always been considered a good mine and is right where the big Consolidated Co.'s mill ought to have been located. The Hand, Lockhart and Findley, should be owned by the same company, (as the three are with the exception of a few stockholders), then the mill could have been supplied with ore from both sides, underneath and kept it continuously running both day and night on free milling ore. The ore shows free gold at the Lockhart now and they think they have cut into the edge of the 12 foot vein.

In our last issue we reported another rich vein cut on the Jumbo, with a thickness of eighteen inches. We now learn that upon going down on this vein a few feet it proved to be over three feet and equally as rich, if not richer. This anywhere else would be considered a big gold mine. The vein runs through the property, is elevated—can be cheaply worked—being a down grade from the cuts to the mill site. On Saturday last a vein was cut on the extreme western part of the property which we are informed is by far the best thing yet found. The vein at cut is about two feet thick, and while no gold is visible to the naked eye, the panning is extraordinary. There has been so many rich veins found on this property that it is hard to distinguish which is the best, but there seems to be no end to the number, and like many other good things, the last seems always to be the best. The work is running on as usual in the shafts, cuts and tunnels, and with results that even astound the natives here, who have been acquainted with the property all their lives. While the present developments show an immense gold mine, the management is determined if possible to actually demonstrate that it is one of the phenomenal gold mines of the world.

and Weak Heart.

Too Nervous to Sleep
or Rest.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine Cured Me.

A shattered nervous system nearly always leads to some affection of the heart, especially where the patient's heart is weak from hereditary or other causes. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is not only a great heart regulator, but it is a blood tonic which speeds circulation and regulates the heart's action, enriches the blood and improves the circulation. It will build you up just as it did Mr. Crawford whose letter follows, and greatly improve your general health.

"I have been so greatly benefited by Dr. Miles' Nervine and Heart Cure that I feel I should recommend them as the best remedies for the diseases they are recommended to cure. When I began taking these medicines I weighed scarcely ten pounds, my nerves were badly shattered, my heart troubled me a great deal. I had pain in my left arm and shoulder, had difficulty in sleeping on my left side, had frequent smothering spells, and my heart would flutter and palpitate. I could eat scarcely anything without suffering great distress, and was so restless and nervous that I slept little night or day. Now I am never bothered with my heart, my nerves are steady as a die, I sleep well, eat well and weigh 165 pounds. I am happy now and am trying to make back the money I spent for doctors who did me no good while I was ill."—T. R. CRAWFORD, Center, Texas.

WHAT GERMAN SET- TLERS DO.

Their Farming Experience in Northern Alabama.

Several years ago forty families of thrifty Germans settled at Sand Springs, in the northern portion of Limestone county, Alabama. The place is fifteen miles from a railroad station of any importance, and lies in the center of what is known as the great barrens of Northern Alabama. The area is covered with scrub oaks and thick underbrush, and had been neglected for farming purposes. A dispatch to the Nashville American, describing the experience of the Germans there, says:

"These Germans now all have nice farms, well improved, and on this land, which was regarded by the natives as being too poor to raise even a fuss, these Germans grow from a half to a bale of cotton to the acre and from twenty to thirty bushels of corn. They have accomplished this result by fertilizing the land and by their mode of cultivation.

"They are all well-to-do, and good lives. I took dinner with one of them the other day, and the meal was good enough for a picnic. Before dinner we sat down to a table on the veranda and drank wine of my host's make, 'in the good old German way,' as he expressed it. The wine, although new, was very clear and excellent.

"Every farmer has a vineyard, and each one of them makes from 200 to 600 gallons of wine every year. They also have fruits of all kinds, and have demonstrated the fact that this barren land will raise fruits as well as scrub oaks. They also raise vast quantities of Irish and sweet potatoes, and say they have no trouble in keeping them all the year round. They also raise a good many cattle, sheep, goats and hogs.

"The creeks on the borders of the barrens teem with trout and other fish, and these Germans spend many leisure moments fishing. One thing very noticeable about these farms is the cleanliness of the farms and barnyards. They sweep both every few days. I visited several of these farms, and found all their barns full of fodder, hay, corn and oats.

"These Germans are very clamish in their mode of living, though they seem to enjoy a visit from an American, and treat him with the utmost respect and politeness.

"During the past year these barrens have been settling up quite rapidly with Germans, Swedes and people of small means from the North. The land has been selling at from fifty cents to $2 an acre. There is room here for many hundred more families.

"To the Alabamian who is acquainted with this section of country, but who has not been here for many years, a description of it now will read like a fairy tale, and the citizen who has lived near here all his life—well, he does not believe his own eyes when he sees a farm of one of these thrifty Germans."

Mercy vs. Justice.

The following is reported to have occurred in Toledo some days ago. A culprit was brought before Jones, the mayor. The man had been charged with stealing a loaf of bread and had acknowledged his guilt, rendering as an excuse that he was very hungry, had seen the wagon standing in the street and could not curb the temptation to take and eat. Whereupon the mayor fined every man in the court room ten cents for letting a man be in the city who was so hungry he had to become a criminal in order to obtain food with which to satisfy his longing. The judge was the first to pay his fine. He placed a dollar in the hat. The deputy took up the collection which amounted to $5.40. The mayor then announced that this sum was the man's fine and that the fine was remitted. Turning to the prisoner he said, "Climb out of here now and prove me a true profit when I say you will never do this thing again." Here truly did mercy temper justice, and if the man was not wholly bad, and what man is, that sentence was the beginning of a reform. If in truth he was a good man who had been driven to desperation by his hunger absolute justice would have been caused for his release. So whether the sentence was one of mercy or one of justice it was a credit to the judge, which should not be overlooked.

Out of Date.

The once popular custom of publishing a list of wedding presents in connection with a marriage notice, which was never in good taste, has become obsolete. Now, the next reform demanded by good taste is to cut out the "card of thanks" that usually appears the day after the funeral, or when your barn burns, baffling the heroic efforts of your neighbors. The "card of thanks" gives some people the cold chills. There are some feelings of gratitude that should never be paraded in print. Just why this is so we may not all understand, but it is true just the same. Cut out the published "card of thanks," but some day tell your friends in a heart to heart talk how you love them and how their kind ministrations came to you in hours of darkness like a ray of light from Heaven. Your neighbors who have kept vigil with you at the bedside of a sick child desire no thanks in a newspaper and the public in general has no interest in the matter.—Greenview Herald.

Why She Wouldn't.

"No, Mr. Slowin," said the fair possessor of the square chin, "I must respectfully decline in becoming your other half."

"B—but why?" asked the astonished young man, who had believed that he was the favored one.

"Because," replied the female extender of the frosty digit, "the man I marry must be brave and fearless. Tonight you let out the information that you have loved me for five long, weary years, but have not dared mention it until the present meeting. A man who has no more nerve than that would hide under the bed while his wife went down stairs to interview a burglar who was making a raid on the family larder. Therefore, Mr. Slowin, I will work the piano for a little slow music while the curtain drops on the farewell scene. You will find your hat on the usual peg of the hall rack. Good evening."

A Severe Cold For Three Months.

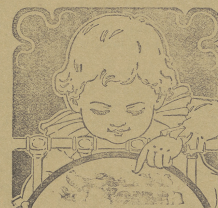

The following letter from A. J. Nusbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR, and eight doses cured me."

A Chattanooga Druggist's Statement.

Robert J. Miller, proprietor of the Read House Drug Store, of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes: "There is more merit in FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR than in any other cough syrup. The calls for it multiply wonderfully and we sell more of it than all other cough syrups combined."
